Tracy's act of heroism recalled

By JIM THOMAS
Back in 1983, Tracy Bell, then eleven, saved a six-year-old boy from drowning. The little lad had fallen into a pool at St. Petersburg, Florida.
For her act of bravery, Tracy was nominated for an Ontario Junior Citizen of the Year Award. That was five years ago but the near-tragedy is still fresh in her mind.
She's our Girl Next Door. Now 16 and a student in Grade 10 at Stouffville Dist. Secondary School, Tracy has expanded on her swimming skills. She holds a Red Cross leader's certificate and is going for her instructor's in 1989. She'll try the test at Uxbridge in June.
She's the daughter of John and Joan Bell, Stouffer Street South, Stouffville. She has a younger brother, David, 12.
Tracy began taking swimming lessons at age eight. Some day she hopes to teach at either Uxbridge or Markham. She'd love to have an indoor pool in Stouffville.
Tracy and her family moved to Stouffville from Willowdale when she was only four. It was her mother's desire to live here. She'd expressed that wish many times when driving through town on the way to the Sales Barn.
"We've never been sorry," Mrs. Bell exclaims.
Tracy received her elementary education at St. Mark's. She was the recipient of the Joan Kamps Award at graduation. Miss Gross, a teacher at St. Mark's was a guiding light during those formative years, Tracy says, just as Mrs. Juk and Mr. Fletcher have been at SDSS.
"I'm really enjoying Stouffville High," she notes.
In addition to Miss Gross, Tracy admits her Aunt Brenda has had a profound influence on her life. She owns and operates a fashion design company in Toronto.

Sixteen-year-old Tracy Bell, Stouffer Street South, Stouffville, has her leaders' badge in swimming and will try for her instructors' next summer. Tracy hopes to teach swimming some day, either at Markham or Uxbridge, maybe in Stouffville when our Town builds an indoor pool.

—Jim Thomas

Logo for horse club

The 120-member Boots 'n Saddles Horse Club has a new logo. The design, submitted by Kathy Colombo of Ajax, was selected by a committee of three judges, Friday.
The unique sketch of a horse's head received top marks from critics Brian Reynolds, Bill Simmonds and Victor Waterman.
The logo will be used on club buttons and letterheads.
Runners-up were submissions by Allison Turnbull of Thornhill and Reggie and Kevin Dent of Agincourt.
