

Stouffville Midget Clippers are getting a bum-steer

The Stouffville Midget Clippers, 1988 edition, would appear to be paying the price for the sins of their predecessors.

Apparently, according to those who have followed the local hockey scene for a few years, the Stouffville teens have had a tendency to take out their youthful frustrations on those wearing the uniforms of the opposition. It wasn't at all uncommon last season to see Midget games delayed for minutes on end due to scraps, skirmishes and the settling of scores that never show up on the scoreboard.

But this year, however, the Showers, the McWilliams and the Winns have moved on to bigger and better things, toughing it out at the Junior 'B' and 'C' level, and the baton has been passed on to a collection of house leaguers and occasional all stars.

In fact, it was feared at the outset there may not even be a Midget team in Stouffville this year. But the call went out, and what has evolved is a group of kids with some talent, some potential and a lot of desire. So much so that they went undefeated well into November.

But it hasn't been easy. For it seems they have become the victims of goonery past, that no one has bothered to inform the men in the white and black stripes that these are definitely not the same clutch, grab and cheap shot specialists that have been known to wear the same sweaters in years gone by.

In two games played in one week recently, the Midgets sur-same out-break of hostilities that had occurred the last time Stouffville had played their Bowmanville opponents.

Now being a homer by nature, I had no problem siding with the hometown faithful. As far as I was concerned, there was an obvious bias shown by the officials. When I questioned those more knowledgeable than myself, I got everything from a polite, "Well, the ref had a job to do," right through, "That was the worst hosing I've ever seen."

In fairness to Gaudet, it's not just he who is jumping all over the Midgets. In the second game of the aforementioned week, a game played in Pickering, it was the same old story. A rash of penalties called against Stouffville, contributed towards a 7-1 cakewalk, becoming a 7-6 squeaker.

Confusing to the boys are incidents like Anand Date suggesting to an opponent that he cease administering cheap shots to the Clippers' goalie, which resulted in Date's being assessed a 10 minute misconduct.

Or David McNaught's being told he couldn't clear his team's goal, mouth area, of unfriendly sweaters, a practice used by defencemen everywhere else.

When Ted Stonehouse is given four penalties in one game, and skates to the penalty box with a look of disbelief and confusion, then it's time to suspect something just may be out of whack with the officiating.

Stonehouse is just not a four-infraction a night player.

I can only hope league officials are picking up on this trend, and that they act before Stouffville teams like the Midgets lose their incentive to play real hockey.

Black Hawks double Betz Pools

Stu St. John picked up a hat trick en route to a 4-2 win for the Canadian Tire Black Hawks over the Betz Pools Nordique in recent Stouffville Amateur Hockey League action.

Doug Gornall tallied the additional Black Hawks goal while Damian Comito and Bruce Woodley fire singles for the Nordiques.

The Towne Restaurant Kings shutout Villeneuve Heating Devils last week in a 2-0 match. Murray Thompson and Elio Zofranieri scored the Kings' goals for the victory.

A four-goal game for sharpshooter John Barnett led the G & R Flooring Jets to a 7-4 victory over the A & S Construction Flames in recent action.

Gord Smith, Ian Boyd and Kim Kavluk chipped in singles for the win.

But Flames' goals by Bob Slack, Ron Ramer, Douge Todd and Ted Pickering weren't enough to challenge the Jets in the match.

A shutout for the Stouffville Travel Canucks bettered their record this week, as they trounced the Farquarson Realty Penguins 5-0.

Wayne Jackson led the scoring drive with a pair, while Greg Gribbon, John Kuenen and Gary Husbands contributed the others for the win.

A nine-goal scoring binge for the Smurthwaite Heating Bruins was enough to beat down a challenge by the Century 21

Meharg Whalers in a 9-2 decision.

A Terry Weatherill hat trick and a pair from Clint Dickinson and Bill Harman led the barrage, while singles from Ron Martyn and Bob Allison ensured the win.

Neil Newton and Gary Yoshida were the only Whalers to answer with goals of their own.

A 5-2 decision for the Village Landscaping Capitols was good enough for two points last week as the squad stormed over the Green's Restaurant North Stars.

Rick Glen led the way with a trio, while Walter McDonald and David McVicar notched one each.

Pat Madigan and Al Parker had the two North Star goals.
