Kids offer 'colorful' performance

By KATE GILDERDALE
Orchard Park Public School's primary students brought "The Colours of Christmas" to family and friends last Thursday night.

Grade 3 students Jason Cumbers and Kelly Stowar were the delightful hosts, and the stage settings were enhanced by some beautifully made snow flakes suspended from the ceiling.

The morning Kindergarten class got things off to a lively start by picking brown as their Christmas colour in a number called "Christmastime". To prove their point, they brought in a large brown turkey, which was followed by an enormous chocolate bear on legs and two gingerbread men.

Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer was performed by the afternoon class and featured a splendidly portly Santa (Brad Hakonson) getting things organized for the big night.

The Grade 2 students arrived on stage dressed for winter, but soon shed their warm coats to boogie to the calypso beat of "Bermuda Jamaica" in brightly colored shorts and T-shirts.

Another Grade 2 class invited smiles with "Red Is", pointing out red is not just Santa and decorations, but a "blooming poinsettia" (represented by one dead-looking plant) and "the look on dad's face when he sees the Mastercard bill."

Two Grade 1 classes, all dressed in green, told the audience about the season in "A Christmas ABC."

Other Grade 1s, beautifully dressed up as soldiers and dolls, performed a French song about a toy soldier and a doll in "La Boite de Jouets," while the Grade 2s sang a clear and lovely version of "Silver Bells."

"The Blue Christmas," performed by the Grade 3s, was about two children who were crying because they left their Care Bears at home.

A daring duo called the Cloud Busters set out on a hazardous journey, braving attacks by the Blue Meanies to deliver the bears to the children.

Included in the fun were two Elvises singing "Blue Christmas" and some decidedly feminist angels who overwhelmed the Blue Meanies, described as "tough" but not tough enough, and saved the day for everyone.

The evening was rounded off with a selection of Christmas songs from the primary choir, including "Little Toy Train" and "The Marvellous Toy."
