"I want to be treated like a human being, not a computer number in a big bank. That's why I moved to Standard Trust."

Mrs. Margaret Philip
Dundas, Ontario

"When I started banking 25 years ago, the personnel were friendly, they knew my situation and my family, and they made me feel at home", recalls Margaret Philip. "This kind of 'family' service has been lost to computers and depersonalization — Standard Trust retains the personnel with professional business ethics.

"They are pleasant to everyone, especially older people. If you are confused, or have any questions, the Standard Trust staff is most helpful. I like dealing with Standard." If you want the best in old-fashioned personal service combined with acute banking principles, visit your local Standard Trust manager.
