

Pep talk

Members of the Stratford BIA gathered for its general meeting last week and guest speaker was Ingrid Klein (right) from St. Catharines discussed how that city's business core was revitalized. Here, she talks with Stratford BIA Chairman Sandra Stronach.

No smoking rule remains in effect

ANDREA-VALERIE GRUNDY seems as if this is the only choice the smokers are being given. The York Board of Education has denied the return of any smoking sections on school property, but still the administration dislikes students being on privately-owned property. Something has to be done to remedy the situation and it seems the best way would be to have the smoking areas back. A special program was offered to help people quit smoking but this isn't a fair choice because it

Many students were left to stand outside in below-zero weather without any protection from the wind, because of the decision to remove all smoking areas. It may be too late to get it back this school year, but if students continue to fight the ruling now, maybe next September they'll see some positive results. If all people are equal, why the injustice?
