

Profile escalates

By BRUCE STAPLEY
 Whitchurch-Stouffville's ever-increasing business profile was acknowledged Wednesday when two members of the Ontario Legislature, addressed the Chamber of Commerce annual meeting at Meadowbrook Golf and Country Club.

Durham-York MPP Bill Ballinger introduced guest speaker Stephen Mahoney, Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of Industry, Trade and Technology.

Mr. Mahoney informed the membership that Queen's Park is ever-conscious of the important role played by small business in communities throughout the province. The Government, he said, is constantly working on programs to stimulate such operations.

Susan Myers, returned as president for 1989-90, told of the Chamber's many accomplishments during the past year.

A new Chamber office had been opened in Stouffville Place Mall; financial assistance had been provided Home Support Services and the Magic Festival; there was continued sponsorship of the Whitchurch-Stouffville Trade Show; endorsement of a major medical plan and the formation of a welcoming committee for new businesses in Town.

The annual Chamber of Commerce Golf Tournament will be held June 26 at John Evelyn's, Tenth Line South, with the awards banquet following at Angie's Eatery, Main Street West.

Mrs. Myers will head up a new executive that includes — Larry Rogalski, 1st vice-president; Tony Arrigo, 2nd vice-president; Hellene Johnson, treasurer and Donna Toms, secretary. The council includes — Bob Ancheril, Dr. Wm. Corrigan, Elaine Spillman, Jean Barclay, Lina Visconti and Judith Gaunt.

Applauded

Senior students of Goodwood Public School presented an enjoyable version of 'Robin Hood', April 13 and 14. Three lead roles were taken by (left to right) — Aaron vanNostrand, (Little John); Rob Housser, (Robin Hood) and Colleen Segriff, (Maid Marion).

Thanks

Dear Editor:
 Through The Tribune, we, the members of The Silver Jubilee Club Art Class, wish to thank the proprietors of Angie's Eatery, Main Street West, for the privilege of displaying our oil paintings in their dining room.

Appreciation is also extended to David Morrison for transporting and hanging them.

For the next 3 years or 60,000 kilometres, Hyundai takes the nail-biting out of buying a new car. Because Hyundai will pay for inspections and regular service maintenance - parts and labour - on every new '89 Excel and Sonata purchased after April 1, 1989.

When you build cars right, it's no problem looking after them right.

This is why Hyundai can now take you to a new level of new-car confidence.

As of April 1, every new '89 Excel and Sonata purchased, comes equipped with a free ride on maintenance for 3 years or 60,000 kilometres, whichever comes first.

Parts and labour are free on all scheduled inspections and regular service maintenance, including things like spark plugs, oil changes, oil filters, and windshield wiper blades (we even replace your engine coolant free).

It does more than save you money; it's peace of mind.

It puts Hyundai 3 years ahead of the competition. Your participating Hyundai dealer has the details, and welcomes you aboard.
