

SDSS students win big

They're tops in business

Three students from Stouffville District Secondary School are making strides towards successful careers in the world of big business.

Grade 11 student Liane Beam, Grade 12 student Jennifer Cambden and Grade 12 student Sonja Braun each won events during this year's Ontario Business Education Association competitions held April 19 through May 18.

The annual competition for high school students interested in business related courses, attracted over 100 students from all York Region high schools.

Events included in the month long competition included keyboarding, accounting, notemaking, marketing, and word processing.

Special divisions were set up in each event to ensure all students had a fair chance to win and all participants were given a certificate of merit for taking part in the competition.

The three top students in each division were awarded plaques.

Sonja Braun was SDSS's big winner, at the competition, taking second place in both the marketing and the senior regular division of the keyboarding competition.

Jennifer Cambden captured third place in the junior open division of the keyboarding competition while Liane Beam placed third in the novice open division in keyboarding as well.
