Nightmare on Elm Rd.

Nine-year-old Danielle Hilton of Elm Rd. didn't want to wait until Halloween to get spooked, so with the help of her parents Suzanne and Ian, she threw a bad luck party for 12 of her friends on Friday the 13th, featuring creepy spiders, slithery snakes, wet noodles and bats in the closet. As a bad luck party, it was lamentably successful. "It was great, reported one highly satisfied guest. "There were so many gross things. I loved it."

Stouffville celebration

Ruby and Frank Burkholder of Parkview Apartments joined Ruby's brother Myrle Raymer on Sunday Oct. 8, at a surprise party to celebrate Myrle's induction into the Sarnia Lambton Sports Hall of Fame. He received the special achievement award in recognition of his efforts in building up ladies' softball in the area. About 50 members of the Raymer family attended the gathering, which was held at the home of Bruce and Eleanor Raymer, north of Woodstock. Myrle, born in Box Grove in 1911, has long been involved in organizing sports teams across the province. Family members presented him with a special plaque to honor his achievement.

Do as we say

In a laudable attempt to encourage conservation of our dwindling resources, the Ontario government sent out a press release on a program designed to reduce, re-use and recycle materials in the government workplace. Headed "Government Applies '3Rs' To The Workplace" it quoted Minister Chris Ward as saying, "Ontario is committed to protecting the environment."

Cutting down on materials and putting them to new uses are important steps in keeping that commitment." To further emphasize his statement, the release was printed on both sides of the sheet. To further emphasize the importance of the program, The Tribune received 14 copies!

Terrible typos...

We sometimes get taken to task for our typos, but the Regional Municipality of York was determined to outdo us in the public notice on the Ballantree and Musselman Lake Water Supply which appeared two weeks ago in this paper. It referred to itself as "The Rigiional Municipality of York" and mentioned the report would be filed with the Town Cler. Well, nobody's perfect.

Traffic project

The long awaited traffic lights at Winona and Main Sts. should be operational within a couple of weeks, according to Mayor Fran Sainsbury. Reflective lights will also be placed around the bases of the newly-erected islands to enhance evening visibility.

New owners

Stouffville Fish and Chips, a longtime local institution, has changed hands after 16 years. New owners, father and son Ken and Al MacIsaac of Agincourt, say they have no intention of arguing with success. "The previous owners had built up a pretty good clientele and were obviously popular," acknowledged Al. "We're planning to keep the same menu and use the same recipes." The pair are looking for a full-time cook, interested applicants should call 640-1732. The restaurant is located at the Stouffville Place Mall, next door to Card's Home Hardware.

Back to Ontario

Kim Burns, a native Ontarian from Woodbridge, has recently returned to her home province after nine years out west in Alberta and Saskatchewan. She and fiance Edward Chisson and his son Mike took up residence in Stouffville earlier this month. "I just decided I'd like to come back. All my family's here." Kim has a job at the Markham Community Library.

Have you seen this dog?

Port Perry resident Lucille Ramsey is asking people to keep a special lookout for her dog Blue, who disappeared on Sept. 11. The dog is a nine-month old Weimaraner, with a short, sleek grey coat and blue eyes. "She has floppy ears like a hound dog, and a docked tail. She's about the same height as a German Shepherd at the shoulders, but much thinner and not as heavy." On Thanksgiving weekend, Lucille received a phone call from an Uxbridge resident who thought she'd sighted the dog in the area of the 7th Conc. and Wagg Rd., but no further news has been received since. If you think you've spotted Blue please call Lucille at 640-8600 during office hours and 985-7237 on evenings and weekends.
