COMPUTER PRODUCTS

VTECH was founded in 1977 and is, presently, one of the world's largest and most advanced electronic manufacturers. The VTECH Group is engaged, principally, in the design and manufacture of the "LASER" line of compatible microcomputers, electronic educational aids, home electronics, telecommunications and plastic components.

VTECH LASER Computers Ltd., established in Canada in 1987, has experienced dynamic growth. From international research and development to servicing our LASER computer resellers and customers VTECH LASER now has 13 Canadian centres from coast to coast. Yet another step in our systematic Canadian expansion has provided for a number of openings in our Markham based Head Office.

SALES & MARKETING

Dealer Sales Representatives (2) • Primary responsibilities include the sales and the service of our LASER Computer Authorized Dealer and VAR Base. The ideal candidate will possess a proven track record in microcomputer sales. An excellent remuneration package includes base salary, car allowance, company benefits and a generous commission structure. Position # SMDS.

Corporate Acct. Representatives (2) • The launch of our Partners in Business Program whereby we market LASER computer products, on behalf of our reseller base, to large national accounts has provided the openings for candidates that have experience in marketing microcomputers and service solutions to the business market. These positions call for professionals with initiative, excellent communication and presentation skills, and a willingness to "knock on doors" and "make it happen". An excellent remuneration plan that rewards performance, provides for an above average package including base salary, car allowance, company benefits and a generous commission structure. This position will be of interest to those seeking a range of 60K to low six figures. Position #SC1.

Educational Sales Representatives (2) • Primary responsibilities include the face to face marketing of the LASER series of microcomputers to the Ontario Educational market as well as coordinating our sales efforts with the established reseller channel. The chosen candidate will have a proven record in marketing microcomputers and is seeking a position involving product lobbying rather than direct sales. Position # SE1.

MICRO - GURU Position # MG1

• Must be experienced in various networking solutions, connectivity in shared environments, and popular DOS based software packages. Responsibilities include corporate sales support through recommendations based on analysis of micro solution requirements, new product and systems evaluations. An excellent remuneration package and great career opportunity for the right individual.
