

Friends bid farewell

About 200 neighbors, relatives and friends had a farewell party on Friday night at Lemonville Hall to honor Mr. and Mrs. George Yake and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Yake and family. Mr. and Mrs. George Yake were presented with a floor lamp, two table lamps and a gift of money. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Yake were given two wicker chairs with a matching table, two hand-painted plates and a gift of money. Mr. and Mrs. George Yake have already moved to Atwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Yake are moving there June 28.

Quite a number of Gormley people were guests at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wright at Faith Missionary Church in Kitchen last Saturday.

Mrs. Luella Winger, of Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania, and her nieces, Mrs. Mary Lou Bates of New York State and Miss Ruth Brauen of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania visited Mr. and Mrs. George Sider and other friends and relatives in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. David Heise and daughters, of Lowbank, were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Heise.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Baker attended a graduation dinner in honor of Mr. Jim Cullen at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cullen of Mount Albert on Thursday night. Jim recently graduated from Seneca College.

Lots to do at the museum this summer

The past comes to life this summer at the Whitchurch-Stouffville Museum when visitors can see how early settlers used containers by the local cooper to store foods, carry water, wash clothes or churn butter.

Dan Zaroski, the museum's volunteer cooper, will demonstrate his craft on several days in July. He'll be on hand July 1, 2, 5-9, and 12-16 during regular business hours.

Also on Sunday afternoons in July and August, visits with a weaver or spinner will be available for museum guests in the log house. Visitors may even consider trying their hand at these heritage skills.

And "The Age of Wood" exhibition offers visitors a chance to learn more about local history and heritage.

The Whitchurch-Stouffville Museum is located on the west side of Woodbine Avenue in Vandorf, two kilometres north of Bloomington Sideroad.

For more information, contact Curator Karen Edwards or Assistant Curator Helen Roberts at 727-8954.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Guidolin held a family farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Albert Yake. They presented them with a beautiful mirror.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Winger and family of Provingnituk, Quebec, near the Arctic Circle, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Winger this week.

Little Sarah Baker spent the weekend with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Baker.
