School shortage serious despite Ballinger's brief on Ontario's new budget

Dear Editor,
I take exception to Ballinger's Briefing of May 9 and his assessment of the most recent Ontario budget.

Mr. Ballinger devoted an entire paragraph to the subject of new school funding ("$300 million in 1993-94 for school construction"). In fact, the recent Ontario budget gave no "capital commitment" to the Durham Board of Education for the construction of new public schools.

Understanding that the Durham Board of Education, in a time of unprecedented growth, is being promised no funds for new elementary schools is difficult, realizing that my son can look forward to attending a crowded and at times dangerous Uxbridge Public School is unacceptable.

Students at UPS can now look forward to more years of having their "needs addressed" with inadequate washroom, library and gym facilities, and an icy hill leading them to even more portables.

It is time for our elected Ontario government members to stop producing election rhetoric and start producing tangible solutions to a serious school shortage in Uxbridge and Durham Region.

S. David,
Uxbridge

Vandalism costs us all so parents take note

Dear Editor,
I'm very upset!

Living on Main St., we had our share of vandalism over the years. Most of it the nights something is going on at the park or at Latham Hall. Friday, June 15 was no exception.

Look at the picture. What did the tree do to you - the vandals - to have a branch broken off? On my walk early the following morning I replanted a lot of pulled out plants back into the planters along Main St.

A few weeks ago all the signs on the corner of Main and Church St. S. were broken or bent.

I can't count the lightbulbs ($16 each) we had broken - besides having replaced the light fixtures numerous times.

And they are on private property. Please, parents, talk to your sons and daughters. We are all paying for it, you and I.

I. Reichert,
Stouffville

Former Guide leader thanks community

Dear Editor,
I would like to take this opportunity to thank the businesses and the town for the help and support you have given me in my term as Commissioner of Guiding in Stouffville for the past five years.

I hope you will continue to support the new commissioner, Jean Mann, throughout her term.

Barb Hie,
Stouffville Commissioner
