Uxbridge Atoms win Tri-County Tournament

Matt Clark and Jeff Wilson built a wall in front of the Uxbridge Bellamy Chiropractic Clinic net during the recent Tri-County Atom Two Tournament in Little Britain.

The Uxbridge netminding duo didn't allow a goal, as the Uxbridge squad swept their three games to claim the tourney championship.

But it was a pair of skaters who protected the goalies' goose egg in the competition's most dramatic tussle, a 1-0 Uxbridge overtime win over Millbrook in game two.

The contest was scoreless after regulation time, and five one minute overtime periods failed to break the stalemate. The teams were then required to go with two skaters a side on the ice, and no goaltender, for the sixth extra minute.

Tim McKinlay finally scored to give Uxbridge the victory.

The Uxbridge outfit, which had handled Lakefield 6-0 in their tourney opener, went on to trim Oakwood 3-0 in the title match.

David Cordingly netted a pair of goals, and added an assist, in the championship game.

Richard Pope notched Uxbridge's third marker, and also earned an assist, while Mike Colucci set up all three goals.

It was Jamie Watson with a hat trick in the opening match up, with singles going to Evan Barr, Kristian Dart and Colucci. McKinlay had a pair of assists, while Dart, Danielle Debnam, Barr, Watson and Andrew Chapman earned one assist a piece.

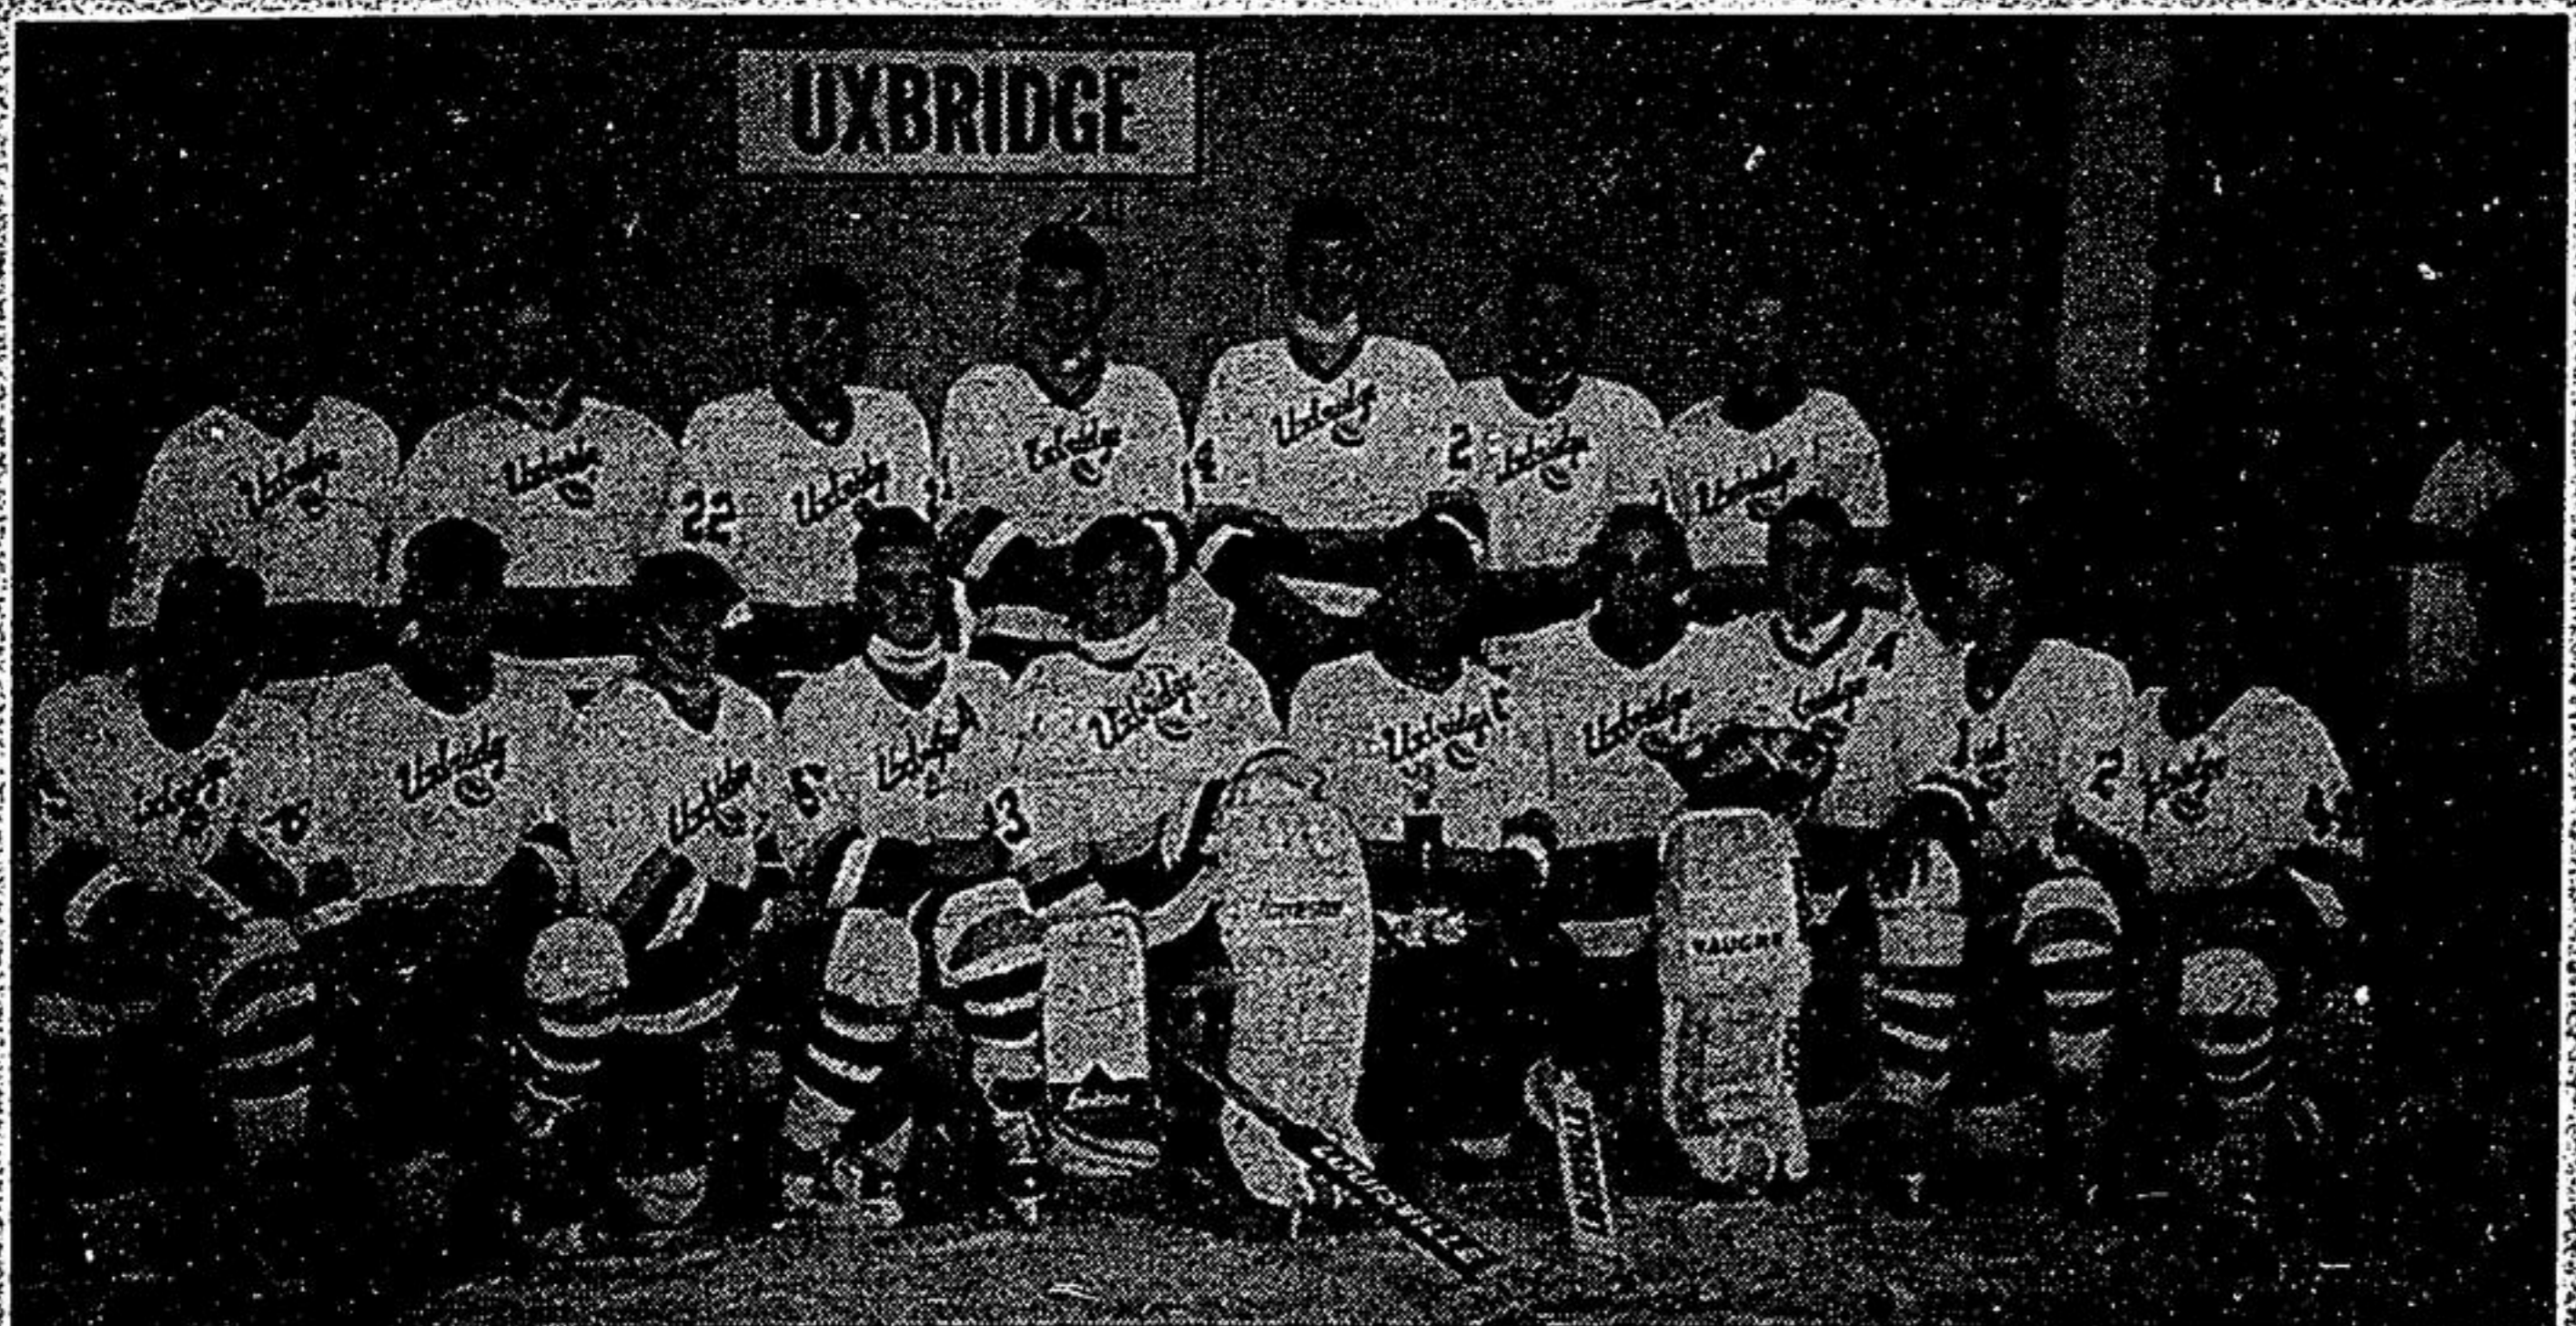

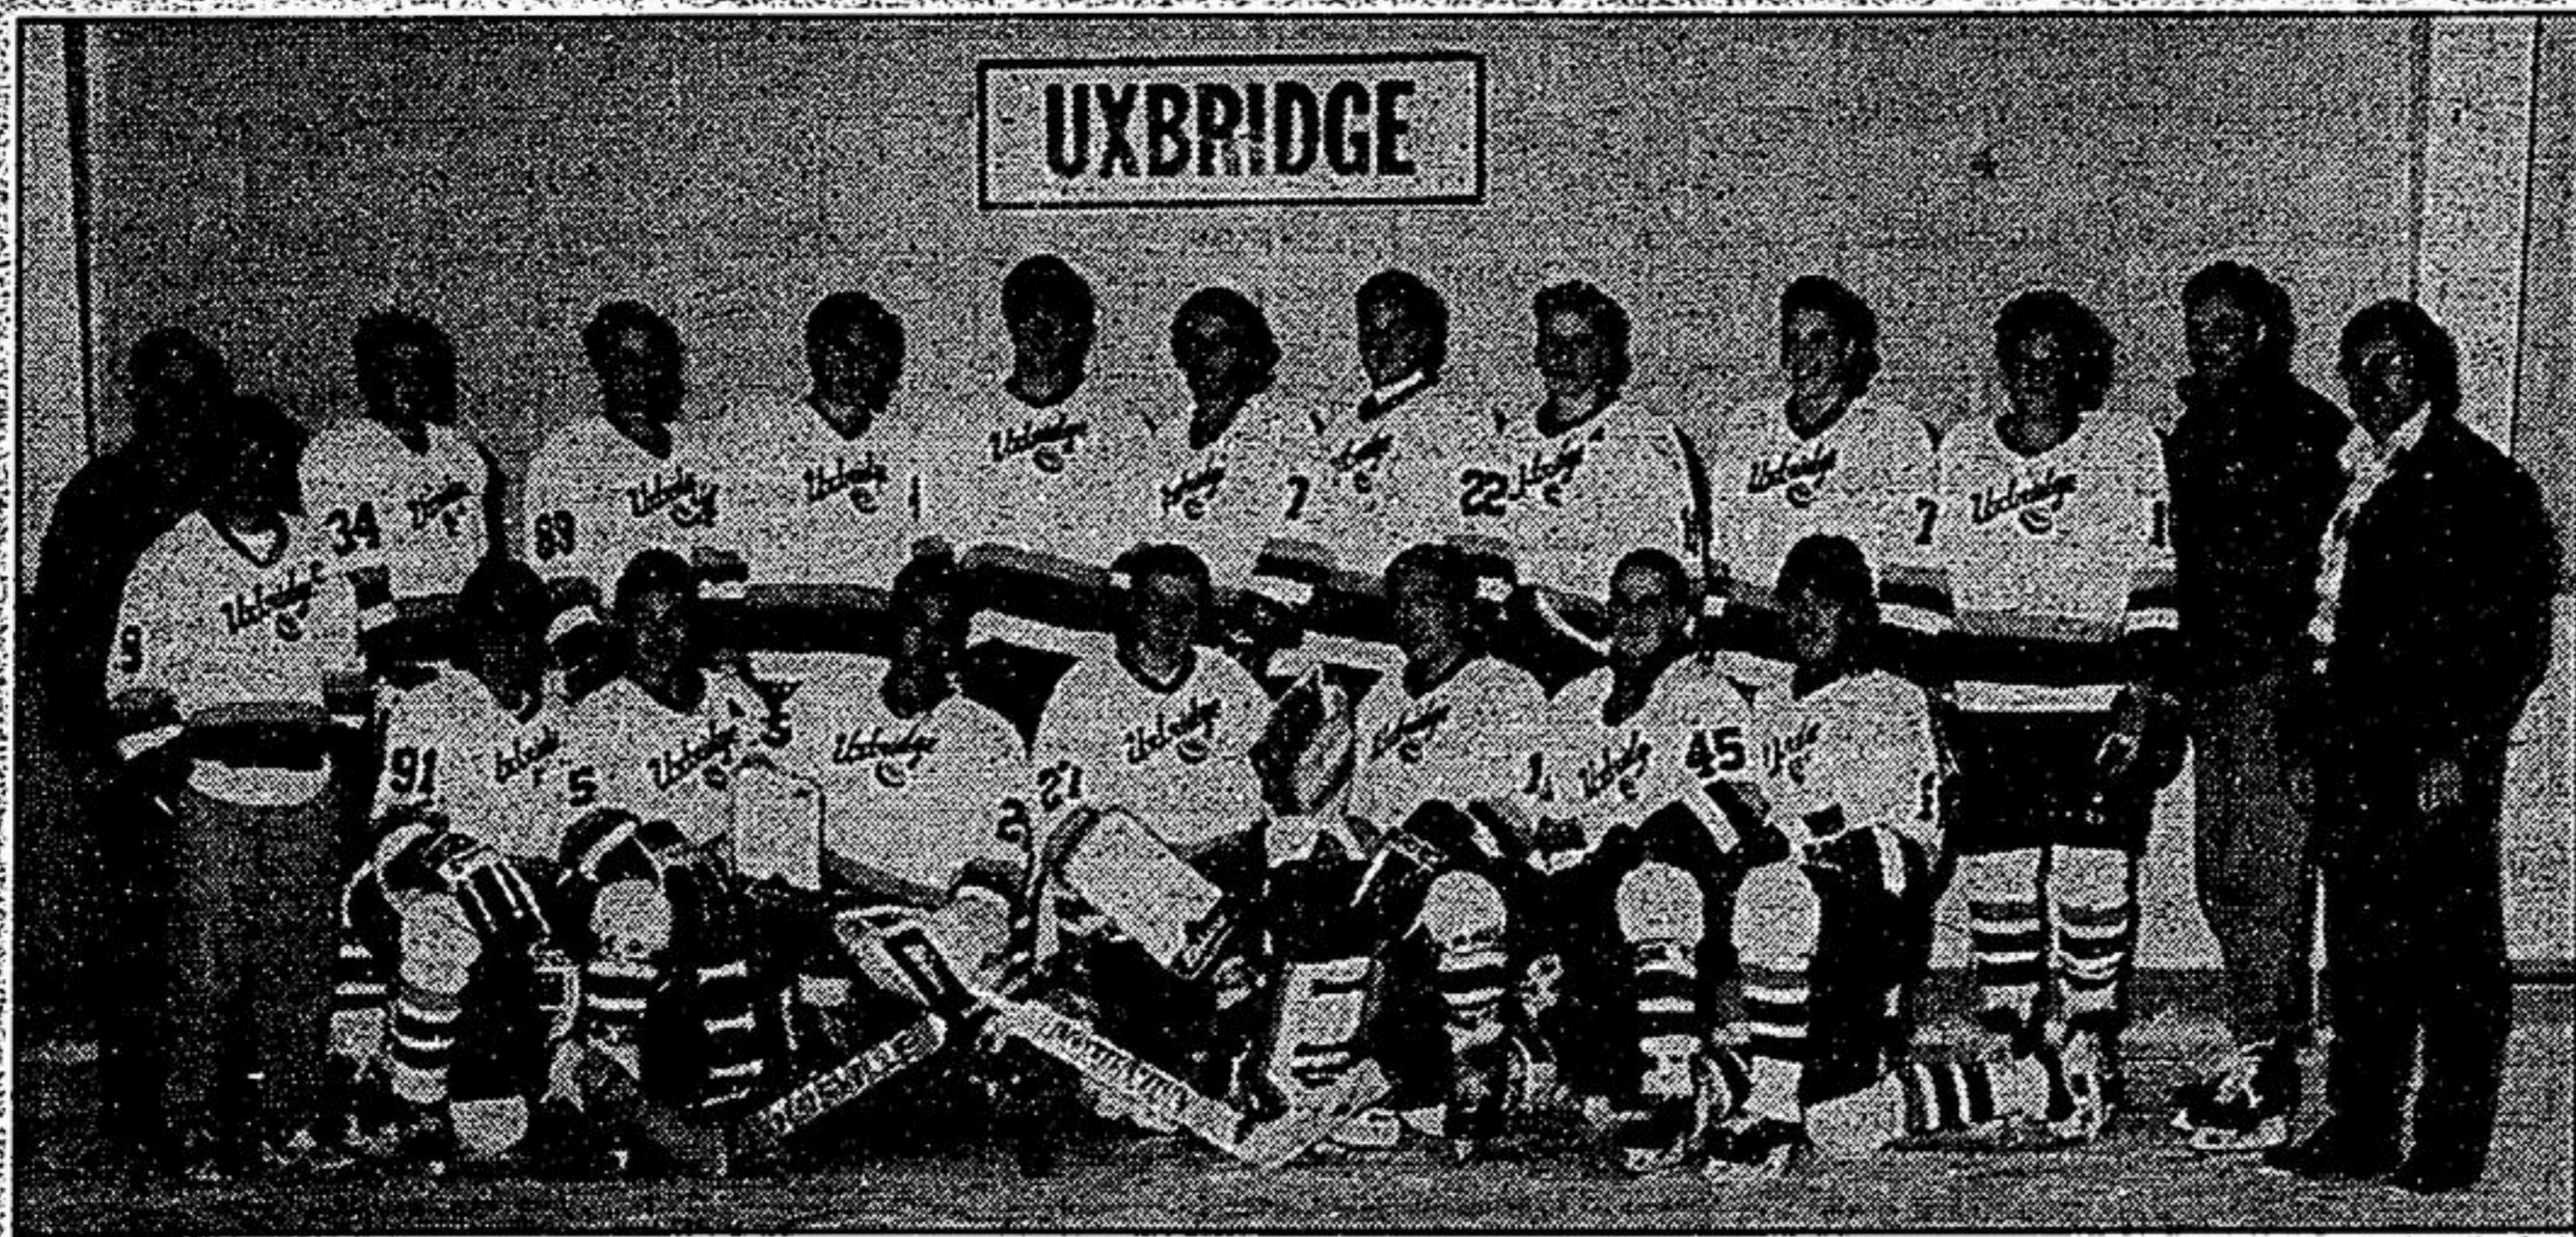

In a league game with Ops Township last Saturday, the Bellamy outfit finally gave up a goal on a power play in the first period, but came back on a marker by David Cordingly late in the final period to earn a 1-1 tie. Richard Pope had the assist.

Clubine leads team to Stouffville crown

Bradley Clubine scored five goals to lead his Newtonbrook Block team to a 10-1 victory over Rand Pools in the Novice Championship game of the Whitchurch-Stouffville Minor Hockey Association Christmas Tournament.

Brent Myer and Ryan Jones notched a pair of markers each for the winners, while Michael Taylor had a solo score. Jesse Wood fired the lone Rand Pools goal.

Thomas Hawkins and Chris Johnstone looked after the scoring as Pizza Pizza snuck past Custom Concrete 2-1 to claim the Atom title. Bruce Stephenson scored for Custom.

Peter Bell counted a hat trick, while Matt McNaught and Kyle Norton popped a pair each to lift Stouffville Rental to an 8-5 win over Ringwood Gas Bar in the Major final. David Bell also scored for the winners, while it was Don Patten, Greg Northey, Andrew Simon, Brent Harrison and Chris VanKoughnet replying for Ringwood.

In the Hockey School title match, Brandon Miller netted four goals, Daniel Blackburn three, and Shawn Burns two, as Canadian Tire romped to an 11-1 win over Standard Aggregate. Scott Davis and Scott McDougall rounded out the Canadian Tire scoring, while Ryan Kennedy connected for Standard.

All players received pennants, hot dogs and pop for their participation in the tournament which was sponsored by the Stouffville Progress Club and the Stouffville Legion.

Novice Black Hawks take consolation title

Jeff Arnold scored six goals, including the winner in overtime, to lift his Black Hawk Sports team to a 7-6 win over James Campbell Insurance in the consolation final of the Uxbridge House League Novice Tournament Dec. 29.

The Hawks erased a three goal deficit to force the extra period.

Arnold, who notched four markers in his team's 5-2 victory over Wood Lumber in the consolation semifinals, was named the Hawk's Most Valuable Player in both the semifinal and title matches.

Brent Buffan, who had a hat trick for Campbell, earned his squad's MVP nomination.

Bowmanville bested Sutton 3-2 to take the overall tournament championship. Chris Peters was the Wood Lumber MVP in the semifinal.

Campbell earned the right to contest the consolation crown by way of a 7-6 win over the Uxbridge Lions in their semifinal encounter. Chris Shortell had five goals, including the winning overtime tally, to get the MVP nod for Campbell.

Thomas Flockhart counted all six Lions markers to win the MVP honor for his team.

All four Uxbridge teams lost their opening round match ups. The Lions fell 7-3 to Port Perry, with Flockhart netting a trio of goals to get the MVP nod.

The Port Perry team went on to lose 4-3 to Bowmanville in their next outing.

Bowmanville topped Campbell 9-3 in first round play, with Buffan netting a hat trick to earn MVP honors.

East Gwillimbury edged the Hawks 4-3. Joshua Day, with a goal and assist, was the Hawks' MVP.

Sutton snuck past Wood Lumber 2-1, with Chris Elford named Wood's MVP for his impressive goaltending performance.

Smith powers Classics win

Gord Smith fired a hat trick, and Gary Williams provided shut out goaltending, as the Stouffville Chefero Classics blasted Papps of Pickering 12-0 last week in Art Thompson's Old Timers Hockey League action.

Kim Kavluk, Wayne Jackson and Bob Leger netted a pair of goals each for the Classics, who maintained their hold on fourth place in the 14 team loop with the victory.

Bill Hermanson, George Sled, and Tedd Pickering had solo markers.

Hermanson had five assists. Smith, Kavluk and Pete Turner each set up a trio of scores, and Art Nicholson had two assists. Each Stouffville player had at least one point.

The Clippers are one point out of second place, while sitting two points ahead of the two teams tied for fifth spot.
