In Memoriams 655

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ANTHONY JOSEPH PASSAFIUME
Born Sept. 12th, 1942 to loving parents Rosa and Sam Passafiume. Anthony was raised in Scarborough on a farm located at Markham Rd. and Ellesmere Rd. He attended S.S. #6 Public School on Ellesmere Rd., now the site of Woburn Secondary School. His elder brother Frank and two younger sisters Marie and Rosemary also attended S.S. #6. One of his favourite teachers was Mr. Lyons. Anthony entered Agincourt High School in the late fifties. Transportation to high school was limited. There was no bus from Ellesmere Road to Sheppard Ave. on Markham Road and he often got a ride with Mr. Taylor the Vice Principal at Agincourt High School. Tony was on the football team at Agincourt. He quit high school in Grade 13 when his dad Sam passed away. At age nineteen, Tony built a small building on the family farm and began a business there that grew enormously year by year. He enlarged the store two or three times. He had a very good sense for business and worked very long hours at his store. It was one of the most successful open air markets in Scarborough at the time. It was known as "Central Farms Market". In 1967, he married and bought property in Markham, on 14th Ave., where he lived. Two years later, he purchased a farm on Hwy. 48 north of 16th Ave. Tony operated Central Farms Market until 1974 when he leased out the store and began a new business at the farm in Markham on Hwy. 48. Within a very short time his pick-your-own vegetable business in Markham was thriving. He planted over 200 acres of vegetables annually and sold them on site. He grew everything from corn to watermelons. Eventually he also began to grow strawberries which were also sold on site. Tony knew many people. We, his family, have placed this article in the local paper on the anniversary of his death as a tribute to him firstly, and secondly so that those people who we meet even yet, who don't know he has passed away, will know Tony died January 26, 1989 of lung cancer. He is remembered by many.
