

Volleyball girls to hold bottle drive fundraiser

It will be bottles for balls as the Stouffville District Secondary School girls volleyball teams take to the streets for a bottle drive this Saturday.

The all day collection is a fundraiser for girls sports programs at the local school.

The students are hoping to cover as much of the town as is possible, and are asking residents to either leave their bottles and cans at the end of the driveway or on the front porch.

Any refundable drink containers will be welcomed.

he would have cut down the nets as a memento of the big moment, but he couldn't find any scissors.

"It was a team effort all the way. The boys finally learned to break a press, and they showed some discipline on offence. They spread the floor and it gave more room to operate."

Brian Leoni and Brian Snooks each hooped 16 points to key the Spartans' offence.

Junior recruit Andy Few was good for seven points, while picking off numerous rebounds.

Fred Klein kicked in with a strong defensive performance, while Tim Ferguson came off the bench to do a solid job spelling off the regulars for the short staffed SDSS crew.

Fletcher hoped the win would go a ways towards making up for the season of frustration experienced by his team, which is undergoing a rebuilding year.

"We're not very deep. But the boys are hanging in there and they are learning."

The Spartans were hoping to make it two in a row when they travelled to Sutton this week.

SDSS junior girl volleyball team stages comeback

It was rally time for the Stouffville District Secondary School (SDSS) Spartans junior girls volleyball team as they hooked up with King City SS Tuesday.

The Spartans dropped the opener of the best of three set, but charged back to win the next two games 15-9, 15-6 to win the match.

Anne Roy, Kate McKnight, and Stacey Patten provided the SDSS crew with consistent setting, while the team's Leana Milos and Christine Jackson stood out defensively.

Erin Blenkhorn hit well and Julie Sanford impressed with her serving.
