

Javelin thrower on to OFSAA

Kelly Forsyth decided she just wasn't going to take it any more.

The Stouffville District Secondary School (SDSS) senior level javelin thrower, who had been forced to go a week without practising due to a pulled rib area muscle, got mad when she saw everyone out-throwing her at last week's OFSAA regional track and field meet in Oshawa.

Forsyth harnessed her anger, using it to post a personal best and new SDSS record of 31.36 metres. The hefty heave gave her a fourth place finish, qualifying her for this weekend's OFSAA (All Ontario) finals at York University.

"Her timing was off," said Forsyth's coach Rick Dewell of the teen's early attempts to throw the javelin at the meet. "We dropped back to the basics and she just got angry seeing everyone throw past her. She loves to throw the javelin."

Forsyth had placed second at the Durham-York (DYSA) meet the week before, but was unable to practise for the Oshawa competition after a coughing attack left her with the pulled muscle.

While Forsyth was advancing to the OFSAA finals for the second straight year, SDSS second year Midget runner Andrea Crothers was being shut out, despite setting a new SDSS triple jump record.

Crothers, who went to OFSAA last season, ended up fifth in the Midget triple jump event. The top four finishers go on to the provincial championships. It was Crothers' first year in the triple jump event.

Crothers ended up seventh in the 400-metre run, and was eighth in the 200-m event.

SDSS Junior Javelin thrower Phil De Roo also finished out of the running at the Oshawa meet.

Junior Spurs fall short in game with Unionville

The Stouffville Junior Spurs under-9 soccer team fell short in a game against a powerful Unionville outfit last Wednesday, as the Spurs fell 5-2.

The Spurs got goals from Jean Bourquin and Chris Kraus.

It was the first loss of the season for the Stouffville squad, which now sports a record of two wins and one defeat.

The Spurs play at home against Barrie this week.
