Claremont day care celebrates 10 years

THE PET PLACE

Pets need dental care

Removing plaque before it hardens is the most important step in preventing periodontal disease in pets. While cavities do occur in both dogs and cats, periodontal (gum) disease is the most common and serious pet dental problem.

Feeding a proper diet, including some dry or crunchy food, stimulates gums and helps clean exposed tooth surfaces. Brushing your pet's teeth regularly (at least twice a week) reduces plaque and calculus buildup at and beneath the gumline.

Start slowly by gently handling your pet's mouth. Massage along the cheek-side of the tooth and gumline with your finger. If your pet resists, calmly stroke and reassure him or her. Try again. Make this a comfortable relaxing time for both of you.

Invisible Fencing creates a boundary your dog can't jump over or dig under

For over 20 years, more than 250,000 dogs and their owners have come to enjoy the many benefits of Invisible Fencing® Brand Pet Containment systems.

Here's How it Works: A thin antenna wire is buried underground along the boundaries you set, which sends a harmless radio signal to the receiver-collar your dog wears. Through a proven combination of conditioning and radio technology, your dog is trained to respect his boundaries.
