

Spartans rule the basketball court

Sisters Danielle and Shannon Timms each collected 12 points to lead the Stouffville District Secondary School midget Spartans girls' basketball team to a 75-8 win over Toronto Waldorf Thursday.

Jen Easter hooped 11 points, with Alison Crowder picking up eight, and Jen Reesor and Tara Marshman six each. Stephanie Hobbs, Shannon Jarvis, Kathryn Easter, and Erika Haefele had four points apiece.

Meanwhile, Nicole Bardell sunk 12 points, and Stephenie

Summerhill added another nine, as the junior Spartans basketball team downed their Toronto Waldorf opponents 39-14 the same day.

It was the second straight win of the new season for the junior crew, which also won two of three games played at a recent tournament at Bayview S.S.

Lori Giancoulos hit for six points, while other Spartans points getters were Amy Sled (3), Melissa Gilroy (2), Michelle Gilroy (2), Jen Cowley (2), Ann Ferguson (2), and Cheryl Jackson (2).

poise, along with a balanced attack, said the coaches.

On the boys' side, Jim Fletcher's senior volleyball Spartans will be challenged by a lack of returning players, along with the resurgence of the Sutton D.H.S. squad. Jason Reesor, who was expected to give the team a boost, has gone off to play Junior A hockey with the Niagara Falls Thunder. For the first time in many years, the seniors aren't odds on favorites to win the York title.

The junior Spartans, coached by Michele Shannon and Brian Simcoe, started out the season by winning three of five sets in league play, while placing third at a tournament in Pickering. The team was getting consistent setting from Jason Whitelaw, until a foot injury put him on the sidelines. Shawn Sargeant will do double setting duty in Whitelaw's absence. Don Patten and Graham Crowder have provided skill at the net. The team is riding high on enthusiasm, report the coaches, and has the potential to do some damage at the regional finals.

With 30 players auditioning for the midget boys' volleyball team, it would appear future interest in the sport is guaranteed. Coaches Sandy Bush and Denis Fortier are encouraged by the power hitting and setting they've seen to this point.

The cross country running team, once the power in York Region, is strongest at the midget and junior levels, but lacking in senior runners.

But the team performed well at its first meet in Toronto last week, led by juniors Sarah Cliff, Luke Anderson, Chris Lamont, Jonathan Tamlin, and Scott Murray, along with midgets Maran Lougheed, Blair Richards, Chris Weatherill, Dave Robinson, and Ian Hazelwood. Coaches Dave Connell, Fred Robbins, and Larry Bobbett feel Cliff is on her way to the provincial (OFSAA) finals this fall.
