Bank of Nova Scotia staff dresses down for fundraiser

They're dressing down for the United Way at the Stouffville branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Employees of the Main St. bank will pay $3 for the right to come to work in jeans and T-shirts on Fridays through Nov. 25. It's part of the branch's attempt to raise funds for this year's United Way Campaign.

The casual dress incentive is one of four money-making schemes being used by the branch. Staff members are also selling raffle tickets on a mountain bike purchased at near cost price from Stouffville's Boyd's Source for Sports outlet. The draw is to take place Nov. 25 at the bank.

The sale of cashews at $2 a bag, along with a hot dog barbecue held in front of the bank this past Friday and Saturday round out the bank's fund raising program.

The bank's campaign co-ordinator Kathleen Wilson is confident her staff can far surpass last year's total of $1,029.

Claremont church holds anniversary

FOCUS ON BUSINESS

Advertisement

Scott Richardson, store manager of Betz Pools, lines up his shot at one of the billiard tables on display in the Stouffville showroom. The activity is increasing in popularity, he said.

Take a cue from Betz Pools

Just because Mother Nature is favoring frosty temperatures over hot, sunny days doesn't mean you have to give up the pool all together. Bring your activities indoors and trade your beach ball for billiard balls and a pool cue.

For the past five years, Betz Pools has been in the billiards business, enabling it to be a year-round operation, instead of a seasonal one. The shop carries three lines of quality slate tables: Brunswick, Olhausen and Canada Billiards, with a selection of 40 to 50 to choose from. Regardless of your decor, there is a style that will co-ordinate perfectly - from the carved ornateness of Louis XIV to the sleek lines of minimalist contemporary. Choose from a variety of wood finishes and a rainbow of felt colors.

"Our tables cover all price ranges, from the low end to $6,000 solid oak tables," said store manager Scott Richardson. There are tables in a size to suit any space - from 3-1/2 ft. X 7 ft. to 6 ft. X 12 ft., plus a full line of accessories. Delivery usually takes one to two weeks for special orders.

Betz Pools is a full service shop; in addition to sales, they do repairs, re-felting and moving of existing tables.

The sport of billiards is increasing in popularity, Richardson said. More and more parents looking for an alternative to TV and video games are creating games rooms and purchasing billiard tables for their homes.

"Parents would obviously rather have their kids at home playing pool than out on the streets," he said.

To complete the well-equipped games room, Betz Pools also carries one of the largest selections of darts and dart boards in York Region, as well as shuffleboard and air hockey.

For more information, visit the Betz Pools showroom at 5688 Main St. in Stouffville, or call (905) 640-1424.
