

Library scares up two Halloween programs

The Whitchurch-Stouffville Library will be having two Halloween programs.

The first, is a Face-Painting Workshop, on Thursday evening, from 7-9 p.m. This is a hands on workshop for adults.

Pepper the Clown will demonstrate how to transform your youngster's face for Halloween, using special paints and designs.

Face painting is an easy and safe way of disguising those little tricksters for that evening of door-to-door trick or treating. Please pre-register at the library.

Please note that the price for this programme was originally advertised as $20 but is in fact only $10.

The second programme will begin to set the Halloween mood.

On Saturday, Oct. 30, from 11 a.m. to noon, the Really Little Theatre Company will present the Sentimental Scarecrow. This musical fantasy will certainly delight the children. Admission is $2 at the door.

While you're noting library programmes on the calendar, you may also wish to note Wednesday, Nov. 17.

On this date, from 2-4 p.m., back by popular demand, is the Christmas Design for the Home.

Lillie Haworth of the Royal Botanical Gardens in Hamilton, will demonstrate how to use fresh, dried and preserved plant material in making decorations. There is a $2 charge at the door.

Changes in the Library

The Library Board wishes to inform all our patrons that the cost of replacing a lost or damaged library card will be increased to $5, effective Jan. 1, 1994.

Also, videos borrowed on Saturdays, may be returned up until 12 noon on Mondays.
