Crabgrass performs at Markham Fairgrounds dance next Saturday.

Dance raises funds for hospital

A local real estate company hosts a fundraising dance for Markham Stouffville Hospital next Saturday night.

The Country and Western Fun Night goes Nov. 13 from 7:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Markham Fairgrounds Main Exhibition Building. Tickets are $15 with all proceeds to the hospital.

The event is being organized by real estate agents with Remax All-Stars in Markham. The theme of the evening is a fun night out, with entertainment from a pair of bands, some country, line dancing (lessons included), door prizes, and a buffet featuring barbecue beef on a bun. Raffles include such prizes as a weekend for two at a luxury hotel, an electric keyboard, and a color TV.

Entertainment will be provided by area bands Crabgrass and The Crossroads. Crabgrass members are Dwight Lubiniecki, Michelle Lubiniecki, John Crichton, Gary Meyer, Bill Whyte, Jackie Young, and John Volpe.
Both Lubinieckis are superb fiddlers, as Dwight plays professionally with the Grand Ole Opry, and Michelle is a national champion.

The Crossroads includes Markham residents Bruce Houghton and Al LaLonde, and plays contemporary music and rock. DJ Rick Short will also be on hand to provide a full night of music and dancing. Everyone who attends is urged to put on their finest western duds, and there will be prizes for best dressed man and woman. For tickets, call 477-0011.
