Christmas section one of Santa's shining lights

Videos
Our video collection continues to grow in size and popularity, particularly the tapes for children which are whipped out on loan faster than Wyatt Earp's two-shooters.

Some recent acquisitions include: The Secret Garden, Tales of Beatrix Potter and, like wow!, Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles II. A good portion of the kids vids promote the fun of learning.

Youngsters can find out about numbers and the alphabet from Sesame Street, sing along with the popular Wee Sing series and sort out behavioural boners with the Berenstain Bears or Thomas the Tank.

Older viewers might be interested in two new sets of videos: one on Canadian poets and another on world travel entitled On Top of The World with Anne Martin.

A video that will be of particular interest to folks in town is The Tin Soldier, presented by the Ottawa Ballet Dance Company.

It features Stouffville's Stephanie Hutchinson in a principal role; a decided inspiration to local ballerinas presently tottering through their dance classes with bruised points and tired tutus.

Ad Min History
That strange whirring sound emanating from our Reference

Department, is the microfilm machine shuttling back through the ages, like H.G. Wells' Time Machine, as people research family and local history.

Now an Administrative History of the Village of Stouffville and the Township of Whitchurch has been added to our collection of microfilm.

It includes council minutes, assessment rolls, tax records and all the other nitty-gritty's of municipal administration from 1850 on to around 1970. A list of the material is available in the Reference area.

Top Literary Awards
The 1993 Governor General Awards for literature were announced this month:

Carol Shields received the award for Stone Diaries (Fiction); Don Coles - Forest of the Medieval World (Poetry); Karen Connolly - Touch of the Dragon (Non-fiction); Tim Wynne-Jones - Some of the Kinder Planets (Children's Literature).

Santa's Helper
That jolly old man in the red suit will be rolling into town next Saturday afternoon to set the stage for the festive season in Stouffville.

Our library can be classified, along with Rudolph, as one of Santa's shining lights.

Our Christmas music cassettes, books on festive food, decorations, gifts and entertainment would inspire even Scrooge to apply for a library card and deck his hall!
