

Give a gift from the heart

Christmas gift giving shouldn't only mean dollars and cents: gifts from the heart are special, too.

Let your children experience the wonderful feeling that the joy of giving can bring without spending any money.

Give each child some colored paper and pencils and let them make a "coupon" book for the special people on their list, with a "gift" on each page to be redeemed later.

Let them decorate the pages, then punch two holes in one side. Create a cover for the coupons, add a gift tag, then tie them all together with ribbon.

Here are some ideas to help youngsters get started. Once they begin, you'll be surprised at how generous they can be.

- * Two weeks of drying the dishes for Mom.
- * A winter's worth of shovelling snow from the front walk for a favourite neighbour.
- * Ten little kindnesses to a brother or sister.
- * Four car washes for Dad.
- * Ten errands for Grandpa.
- * Twenty hugs (to be cashed in when least expected).
