Emily Vereshchak's Christmas wish came true on New Year's Day. She became a big sister to Alexandre Peter and put on her new holiday dress to greet the newest member of the family who is also the first baby born at Markham Stouffville Hospital in 1994. What did Emily ask Santa Claus for? "A baby brother," whispered the blond two year old as she placed a delicate hand on her brother's tiny head. The eight pound boy joined the family at 6:23 a.m. New Year's Day.

ALEXANDRE VERESHCHAK

"He was due on the 31st," said mom Martha Mingay and her husband O'Leh Vereshchak chauffeured their son to their Markham home Monday afternoon where he settled in with just a few screams. "He's got lusty lungs but he's a good sleeper," Mingay said. Both mom and dad are local lawyers at the Main St. Markham firm, Mingay & Vereshchak.

Martha said she'll spend the next six months away from work "then we'll see." Proud grandparents are Paul and Rena Mingay of Markham and first-time grandparents Mary and Peter Vereshchak of Toronto. Alexandre is the 16th great-grandchild for Olive Miller, 93, of Markham.
