MY DARLING

After a year and a half and numerous stays in hospitals, God called you Home.

What a devastating day that was for me, I actually longed to go with you, but for some reason was left in this old world.

You had been my most loyal and loving companion for almost 60 years and I felt that life would never be of interest for me. However, after moving back to our home province and getting acquainted with so many relatives, both yours and mine, I have survived much better than expected.

Your Spirit is ever present with me. I sense it every day. Many times I can almost hear your sweet voice. When I visit your grave as I often do, it is so hard to leave that sacred spot as you seem to be so very close to me.

I am longing to be with you again and am sure it will not be long until God says, Come. Until then, I'll continue living as He and you would like me to.

Goodbye for now. Will see you soon.
Your ever-loving husband, Edwin.
