

March Break activities planned at Stouffville Library

Tax Time

The Certified General Accountants Association of Ontario have been informing people of the booklet they've put out. This booklet, called "Strategic Personal Tax Planning", has finally arrived at the library, after being advertised on the radio. So if you've been looking for a copy, please drop by.

March Break Fun Time
Space Carnival is this year's

March Break theme at the library. There will be the usual activities, such as the solar sandbox, a drawing and a craft contest and a giant... Ah! But that would be giving it away.

There will be two main events each day, from Tuesday to Friday, admission is $2 per person or a $10 passport to the eight shows can be bought. Events and times are as follows:

Tuesday, March 16:
10 a.m. - Sylvia and Sue (Musicians)
2 p.m. - Naomi Tyrell (Mask and Dance)
Wednesday, March 17:
10 a.m. - Waterwood Puppet Theatre

2 p.m. - Pinocchio (Disney Movie)
Thursday, March 18:
10 a.m. - Jay Miller (Mime Artist)
2 p.m. - Bierdo Bros. (Musicians)
Friday, March 19:
10 a.m. - Generic Theatre
2 p.m. - Richard Lyn (Magician)

March Break Quiet Time

For those of you who prefer a quiet break, you may wish to visit the library in the evenings. This could be the time to catch up on some reading. The library now has a copy of In The Company of Strangers, by Mary Meigs. This has been made into a wonderful documentary on television. Also of interest is Al Gore's book, Earth in the Balance. Although written when he was senator, now that Gore is vice president the book has been getting a bit more attention in our library.

If not having time to read is a problem, check out some of the magazines or short stories. The Oxford Book of English Detective Stories may be just right. It has an assortment of favorites, and because it is a collection of different authors, it's easy to pick and choose the stories you really like.
