Soccer almost a way of life for Morton

(From page 30)
 do."

As for the growing turnout, Morton credits player Carolyn Reesor for much of the interest. "She's very keen. She's brought out quite a few players to the team. And there are still more to come out. We may have as many as 14 for our next practice."

The team works out Wednesday evenings at 6:45 at St. Marks.

For Morton, coaching the ladies' squad is just another chapter in his life-long book of soccer involvement.

"I've played soccer ever since I was able to walk. I played soccer in Scotland, and I played for pay in Scarborough after coming to Canada. I also ran soccer clinics in North York."

With the Stouffville ladies' team expanding his soccer horizons even further, he said he is looking forward to watching the squad progress.

"It's going to be fun. They're a real great bunch."
