

Books on cassette are ideal for people with no time to spare

Time! Don't we all wish we had more of it. Time to do the million and one things we'd rather be doing instead of work.

Top of the list around the library is, of course, reading. Staff and patrons alike are all trying to finish the latest book by their favorite authors.

However, in some cases, there's an easier way to accomplish this.

Audio books, or stories on cassettes, are a great way to actually finish a story without taking four months, or waiting

Volunteers needed

Volunteers are sought for two organizations:

Markham Stouffville Hospital has an ongoing need for caring adults to help feed patients once a week at dinner time from 5 to 6:30 p.m. Please call the Volunteer Bureau Markham at 471-1620.

Assistance is required for mother of newborn twins and 2 yr. old boy in the Musselman's Lake area. If you have some spare time and love little ones, your help would be greatly appreciated during daytime hours. Call the Volunteer Bureau Markham at 471-1620.

LIBRARY NEWS

for the paperback so you can take it on vacation.

Publishers are certainly aware of the appeal of these tapes and are now bringing out the books on cassettes almost as fast as the paper copy.

The library is slowly building up a collection. There are approximately 450 titles for adults and children.

We carry the abridged versions, which means that most of the stories are on only two cassettes.

This is perfect for our commuting patrons, people going on vacations where a long drive is involved, and some patrons even do their housework while listening to a story.

So check out this collection at the Whitchurch-Stouffville

Public Library and get caught up on some of the popular stories.

Of course, you could also come to the Library Book Sale, May 14-16, and pick up some reading material for the cottage, when you have time to relax and sit back, and really get into a book.
