

Australian crier visits Burchetts

took place Saturday at the Britton home in Lemonville, attracted a good turnout of families, who enjoyed an afternoon of games, swimming and a barbecue.

CRYING FOR THEIR SUPPORT: Lana and Bob Burchett of Stouffville welcomed Don and Zara Latimer, from the state of Victoria in Southern Australia, for an authentic Canadian barbecue last week. Don was among the contestants taking part in the World Town Crier Championships which were held last weekend in Markham. The couple hails from Barker's Creek, one of the early gold rush towns in the area, and their home was originally built as the first hotel to serve prospectors. The meal they enjoyed was thoroughly Canadian from the corn on the cob to the wine and beer. "We had a great time - they were a fascinating couple," said Lana. "He was a master bookbinder and this was his first competition as a town crier. They thought Canada was wonderful. They planned to stay here about 10 days and were going on to Kentucky to see their daughter and her family."
