Volunteers needed to compile life histories

APHASIA CENTRE NEEDS VOLUNTEERS The Aphasia Centre York-Durham is looking for volunteers in the Stouffville area to compile personal 'life history books,' to help aphasic adults to communicate. Hours are flexible. For more information call 1-800-363-2412.

CAT CARE When Lana Black moves from her Stouffville home in a few weeks, she is hoping to find someone in the vicinity willing to take care of a feline friend who has been dropping by regularly for sustenance. "I moved in two years ago in the spring and I live on Boyer and the 10th," explained Black. "A mangy looking cat arrived at my door one day crying.

I couldn't get close to him, but I started feeding him and it was obvious he had had no affection in his whole life; he didn't like to be touched or picked up. He comes in for his breakfast and his supper and we know his routine; he really trusts us now."

Although the cat is not allowed inside the house, Black is very concerned that he will continue to come looking for food and there will be no one to look after him. Anyone who can help is asked to call 640-1647.

ONTARIO MARCH OF DIMES Volunteer captains and canvassers are still being sought for the Ontario March of Dimes January fund-raising campaign in the Whitchurch-Stouffville area. The organization is committed to helping physically disabled adults live as independently as possible and to enhance their lives by financing the purchase of mobility devices such as wheelchairs; providing counselling and training for jobs; supplying attendant services and running a variety of recreation programs. In 1992, the Ontario March of Dimes created a non-profit housing corporation to allow disabled adults to live in an integrated setting.
