"I DID IT! YOU CAN TOO!"

"My primary objective in losing weight had more to do with improving my overall health than just 'looking better'. I needed not only assistance in losing weight, but required a program that provided me with an adequate level of nutritional balance, and would enable me to successfully keep the weight off in the long run. I found these features in Beverly Hills. I was able to lose weight effectively and effortlessly with a nutritional plan suited specifically to my needs."

Early Booking Bonus Book by March 31, 1995 and SAVE $100/person

Main Street Travel is offering a 16-day Celtic tour this fall and travelers will take in the beauty of the Emerald Isle as well as the Scottish Highlands.

The flight to Glasgow, Scotland departs on Sept. 9 and travelers will be whisked on a Celtic adventure for the following two weeks.

The tour allows for a good deal of free time and leisure, says David Jacob, Main Street Travel owner.

"There are a number of two-night stops along the tour which allow clients to do some exploring on their own," he adds. "Also, clients can arrange to extend their stay and come back at a later date."

Scottish tour highlights include Dumbarton, the capital of the ancient Celtic kingdom of Strathclyde, a spectacular afternoon drive along the Caledonian Canal, with vistas of the Great Glen, Loch Lochy, Loch Ness and Urquhart Castle.

Then the following day clients will go on to Aviemore-Edinburgh, into the Grampian Mountains until they reach Balmoral Castle, the Queen's residence during the hunting season. Next is Braemar, home of the Royal Highland Games for over 900 years.

On Sept. 14, travellers will enjoy a full day in the "Prince of Cities", Edinburgh. One of the three special evenings which are part of the tour will take place here. A three-course dinner with Scottish specialties and wine is part of the festivities as well as a show with Highland dancers, bagpipers and the Ceremony of the Haggis.

In Ireland travelers will go through the incomparable landscapes of Snowdonia National Park via lovely Betws-y-coed and over spectacular Llanberis Pass. At Caernarvon they will have time to explore the castle which saw the investiture of Charles as Prince of Wales.

On Sept. 17, after touring Wicklow Mountains, statue-lined O'Connell Street in Dublin, Phoenix Park and St. Patrick's Cathedral, top the day with the second of the special evenings included in the tour. Made up of a traditional Irish dinner, one of Dublin's finest shows with well-known singers, folk musicians, dancers and a cabaret show, it promises to be a memorable night, Jacob says.

The next few days promise excitement with additional guided tours and sightseeing before the trip winds down back in Glasgow.

"The terrific aspect of this tour is that it is an all-inclusive package, organized so that travelers can take in the magic of Scotland and Ireland with guided tours but there's also a great deal of free time for relaxing or sightseeing," Jacob says.

The Celtic Highlands tour, through Main Street Travel takes place September 9 to 24. The all-inclusive package costs $3,199 per person. Save $100 by booking by March 31.

Main Street Travel is located at 43 Main St. Markham, North. For more information call David Jacob at 471-0056.
