'Mot Sretniw' offers his thoughts

Dear Editor,

There was something fishy about your exclusive article page on Saturday's paper.

I have known Harry Tidj for perhaps as long as you and Harry would never take this Spanish train laying down.

The whole article smells like something cooked up by the O'Connor family in order to scale new heights in local politics (they are related, aren't they?).

The concept of a Heritage train running between Stouffville and Uxbridge, possibly stopping in Goodwood, has had me hooked from the beginning.

This new proposal is even more luring than that.

I hope however that no one jumps at the bait offered by 'Loof Lirpa' and that the Turbotrain application be reconsidered by those at the helm on this one.

Why should we even consider supporting a Spanish company (Loof Lirpa) at a time when their trawlers are sticking their noses into our tails?

The time has come to say to our local politicians "either fish or cut bait".

We must be more serious about what we do and how we do it or everyone will be laughing.

Soht E. Sretniw,

Stouffville
