Bruins announce new executive

The Uxbridge Bruins will sport a new look from the top down when the 1995-96 season gets under way this fall.

The Bruins have confirmed the election of Uxbridge businessman Dennis Gray as new club president, while former Uxbridge resident Clive Moody has been appointed Bruins general manager.

Gray, who has sat on the Bruins executive for all but one year since 1987, was elected to the top post at the Bruins' annual meeting May 9. He replaces Paul Harris, who resigned from the Bruins executive after the election. Former Bruins president Ron Cook becomes immediate past president.

Moody replaced Bruce Colwell as Bruins GM May 25. Moody, who currently resides in Virginia in the Lake Simcoe area, was founder and president of the Georgina Ice of the Central Ontario Junior C Hockey League last season. The first-year squad went all the way to the Central League semi-finals in this year's playoffs, losing a seven game series to the Port Perry Mojacks.

Gray owns Uxbridge Sports, and also operates Gray Sports Agency, a wholesaler of sporting goods equipment to teams and schools. Uxbridge Sports is managed by Bruins head coach Trevor Clark.

Sandy's Auto Service

Celebrating their 20th anniversary in Markham this July, Sandy's Auto Service is a family-run business, co-owned by Sandy Devitt and his wife Sharon (Krisie) Devitt.

"We've gone through some changes," Sandy says with a smile. "We originally had a station at Old Kennedy Road and Hwy #7, then we moved to a location on Heritage Road and finally, in 1993 we moved to our present 1,800 sq. ft. facility."

The six-bay auto service centre is a new, modern, sophisticated operation, he adds. They offer complete auto repair service, excluding auto body work.

"You name it, we'll do it," Sandy says. "Whether it's changing a light in the interior of the car or putting in a brand new engine, we can do the job."

His formula for success is as simple and direct as his manner.

"It's straightforward. We give expert repairs, an unbeatable guarantee, personalized service and over 32 years of experience in the business."

All their work is guaranteed and their professional alliances number 200 across Ontario, soon to be nationwide.

Sandy's Auto Service is located at 176 Bullock Dr., Unit 8. For more information call them at 294-3868.
