Dream Fashions offers elegant chic for day or evening

Elegant style and chic comfort define Dream Fashions on Main Street Unionville.

The unique lines offered largely originate from Europe and combine high quality with high fashion.

Bucking trends in favor of classic good looks, the 8-year-old store has everything from loungewear to dramatic evening looks.

"The common denominator in terms of all of the lines I carry is that they don't overpower the woman, rather they really allow her own personality to shine through," says owner Elizabeth Schindler.

Streamlined, no-nonsense suitings whose clean lines can take the wearer from daytime to evening come from Louben Navy staples, as well as olive groupings make up the selection which is for the understated cool. In addition, Jacques Vert offers a variety of sophisticated coordinates "easily mix-and-matchable with pieces already in your wardrobe," Schindler says.

The "unquestionably, legendary and timeless" Castleberry line incorporates details with a spark, she adds.

The fine knit separates include satin piping, distinctive buttons as well as rhinestone accents on dressier items.

Pretty teals, blues as well as off-white neutrals are offered up in the Chanel-inspired grouping which is also machine-washable. From Tricoville and Jacques Vert come more knit suitings with a more casual bent ideal for day functions and office. But if ease is your focus the Mamut line from Germany includes earth tone knits more casual in spirit. Buttery, soft earth tones make up the grouping which has been "a best-seller," Schindler says.

There's something for everyone in cozy fall/winter sweaters with lines like Kapallua from Germany and Kabri from Switzerland. These imports feature fine wools and cashmeres for the utmost in luxurious feel.

Furthermore, Dream Fashions has an array of outerwear in wools, cashmeres, camel hair and of course, leather for both men and women. Featured leather designers, Dominic Bellissimo as well as Elizabeth Schindler herself, offer up full-length coats as well as jackets in the best leathers. "These pieces can last over a decade if they're properly taken care of."

"The fact that they're classic in design make them terrific to put on year after year," Schindler says.

The variety and selection in the store can satisfy the tastes of the most particular customers.

Dream Fashions - Dream Leather is located at 186 Main St., Unionville. For more information call 905-470-0904.
