Spirit sing the Blues and get axed by Ajax

The Spirit of Stouffville paid the price for their infractions over the weekend as they were edged 6-5 by the Collingwood Blues on Friday before falling 9-2 at home to the Ajax Axemen on Saturday.

The Spirit threw a scare into the second place Blues Friday night, taking an early 3-0 lead. But a string of penalties allowed the Blues to tie it before the period was out. The Spirit battled back from one goal deficits, but the Blues won it with a goal with four minutes left. The home squad withstood a fierce last minute charge by the visitors. Andrew Patriarch netted a pair for the Spirit, with singles from Rob Frost, Phil Vito and Tate Philips.

The Spirit led Ajax 1-0 after one period but ran into penalty problems in the second, with the Axemen collecting five power play markers to take a commanding lead. Frost and Darcy King had the Stouffville goals.

The Spirit are in Lindsay to play the Muskies Friday, then return home to host Peterborough on Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Stingrays serve gold, silver

The Stouffville Stingrays II team swept away all comers to spike gold at the tier III midget girls open volleyball tournament at Stratford recently.

The Stingrays won each of their three preliminary round sets in two straight games, disposed of the host team in a two game semi-final, then defeated the Etobicoke Falcons 15-12, 15-12 in the title round. Power hitters Kelsi Andrew-Wasylik and Kim Harding stood out. Elena Chan and Jo Harding provided stellar setting.

The same day, the Stingrays I squad was battling its way to a silver medal at the tier II midget girls open tournament in Mississauga. The Stouffville crew swept its two preliminary sets, then earned a trip to the finals by taking two of three games with the Orono Wolves. But the Stingrays were finally stopped 8-15, 15-7, 12-15 by Cambridge in the gold medal game.

Amanda Crowder led the way for the Stingrays with her digs and serving, while captain Angie Scott stood out as a setter.
