

Carnation Campaign aids Multiple Sclerosis Society

The Multiple Sclerosis Society is in desperate need of volunteers to participate in its 21st Annual Carnation Campaign.

Multiple Sclerosis is the most common disease of the central nervous system, affecting tens of thousands of Canadians who are in their career and family building years.

Money raised during the Carnation Campaign will be used to provide services to people with MS and support research into finding the cause and eventual cure of the disease.

The Canada-wide Carnation Campaign will take place on Mother's Day weekend, May 8, 9 and 10.

Aphasia Centre seeks volunteers

Volunteers are needed for the York-Durham Aphasia Centre for its spring and summer sessions.

This small community agency specializes in group programs for adults with aphasia, or difficulty speaking, understanding, reading, or writing caused by a stroke or brain injury.

The centre is partly funded through the Ministry of Health and works closely with area hospitals and home-care programs.

Volunteers are needed as 'communication partners' to assist aphasia sufferers in Stouffville,

Richmond Hill, and Newmarket.

"Our volunteers are a very diverse group of people," said Bonnie Morrison.

"Men and women of all ages, students and retired people and everything in between."

Morrison added, "They (the volunteers) create the 'positive communication environment' that allows social links and friendships to happen."

For more information about becoming an aphasia volunteer, contact Bonnie Morrison, 642-2053.
