Businesses honored

Officials of five local businesses along with three individuals will find out next week if they won Chamber of Commerce business achievement awards.

Business of the Year nominees are ArtForms International Inc., Stouffville Chrysler Inc. and the Stouffville Sun.

Nominees for the Business Entrepreneur of the Year award are Charlotte Randozzo of Charlinda Fine Chocolates and Jochen Schleese of Schleese Saddlery Service Ltd.

Competing for the Corporate Citizen of the Year award are Joseph Lebovic of Lebovic Enterprises, Rob Pare' of the York Durham Heritage Railway and Jim Mason, editor of the Stouffville Sun. The winners will be announced at the Whitchurch-Stouffville Chamber of Commerce's annual general meeting on April 9 at Meadowbrook Golf and Country Club.

of a Gormley store owner will make his second court appearance on April 4.

On Friday, a Newmarket judge ordered Sohaid Syed Razvi, 20, to return to court.

Meanwhile, York Regional Police continue to seek two more suspects in connection with the crime. Razvi has been charged with robbery, disguise with intent and forcible confinement. He was released on bail on March 5 on a $15,000 assurity.

Sgt. John Sheldon reported that on Feb. 12, the owner of MIS Variety was approached in the parking lot after closing his Gormley store.

Home invasions are especially frightening experience for the victims, said Sheldon.

"This is the worse kind of crime. People don't feel secure in their home or at their businesses. They feel they're being monitored. It's terrible," Sheldon said.

The investigation continues, stressed Sheldon.
