Student works showcased at Latcham Gallery

The Latcham Gallery will showcase artwork by students from Stouffville District Secondary School in an exhibition entitled 'Images '97.'

More than 50 artists in grades 11 to OAC will participate in the show, which runs from May 18 to June 1. Art teacher Jane Warren explained that the students use art to express their views of the world around them.

"They don't want to compromise, they want to communicate, and they have important things to communicate, things that are important to their future." They will select the work to be displayed, design the wall labels, invitations and publicity material and install the exhibition themselves, with the help of Warren and gallery director/curator Christopher Jackson. "I'm really looking forward to this show," said Jackson.

"It has become a tradition for SDSS students to show here over the past four years. The quality of work has always been very high. I think the public will be impressed with the work and the maturity of ideas expressed."

A wide range of media, from computer art to sculpture, will be included in 'Images '97.' An opening reception will be held May 21 from 7 to 9 p.m. and everyone is welcome to attend.

Gas prices article was on the money

LETTERS

Dear Editor,

Congratulations on the front page story of the April 19 Weekender. I especially want to congratulate Gord Lake and offer my thanks to him.

I have personally attempted to bring this situation to light over the past couple of months or so by bringing it to the attention of the service station operators.

Their response was laughter, just as mine is when referring to them as "service station operators". This situation where gas prices vary between Stouffville and Markham is comparable to Markham and Scarborough and then if you go downtown, you will find it even lower on the weekends.

Then if we want take this a step further, we could look at government cut-backs and claw-backs as an answer to debt and deficit and no tax increases. Go figure!

The way I see it, if user fees are the result of these reduced government transfers, then I figure them to be tax increases. I also can't see any reduction in either the debt or the deficit.

Again, thank you Gord Lake, I pat you on the back sir!

Three issues raises concerns

Dear Editor,

Regarding your announcement in the Saturday edition of three publications a week we feel:

a.) Three publications will only generate more recycling material.

b.) One publication a week with more news would be better than three times a week with more advertising.

Thank you for listening.
