

Harpist presents tales of enchantment

LIBRARY NEWS

Magical harp

Leprechauns, fairies and other magical wee folk will be plucked from the land of make-believe and introduced to the library by a very real harpist and storyteller on Saturday, May 24.

Angelica (what a perfect name for a harpist!) Ottewill presents her Tales of Enchantment at 2 p.m. Admissions is $1.

The program, especially arranged for the enjoyment of children 4 years and up, features storytelling, audience participation, puppets and the harp.

The harp has always been connected with the world of magic in European folk culture and is reputed to be the preferred instrument of fairies, kings, gods and mermaids.

Children are familiar with the fantasy of harps through folk tales and fairy stories, but it's unlikely that many children, or adults, for that matter, have ever seen or listened to a harp.

This program will be a wonderful opportunity to do both, and Angelica is sure to present a memorable introduction.

She is a professional teacher, singer, storyteller, and, when she sits down to her enchanted harp, it's magic!

Markus in Concert

A smaller musical instrument and a prodigiously talented performer conjure up music, comedy and an upbeat tempo at the library on Saturday, June 7. Markus is an entertainer with boundless energy, a gutsy guitar and a great singing voice.

Audience surveys consistently tag him as "one of Canada's most exciting and likeable family performers."

His concert is an interactive, fun-filled show of music and humorous stories that all children will enjoy.

The show starts at 11 a.m., and tickets will be $2 each.
