

Fourth annual Caribbean Festival coming June 7

KATE GILDERDALE
Correspondent

The cool spring will end June 7 when the fourth annual Caribbean Festival takes place at the Recreation Centre on Ninth Line.

An evening of sunshine, music, island culture and fabulous food is on the agenda for this popular event, which is sponsored by Christ Church Anglican in Stouffville.

This year's emphasis is on music and dancing. Some great entertainment will be supplied by The Amazing Tunka, whose fire-eating and limbo dancing made him a huge hit at the 1996 festival.

He has also performed for Canadian prime ministers, a United States president and Hollywood stars.

Models will display some of the gorgeous costumes from Caribana '97 and the steel band will perform both traditional and classical pieces guaranteed to get everyone up and dancing.

A silent auction is scheduled to take place during the evening.

Tickets for the festival are $35 each, which includes a delicious Caribbean buffet featuring both mild and spicy dishes.

A cash bar will operate throughout the event.

Station to open soon

The grand opening for the Stouffville station linked to the York Durham Heritage Railway will be held on June 28 at 10:30 a.m. on site at the Main Street GO station.

The work began on the shell in the last two weeks and work is progressing quickly, The Tribune was told.

The train between Uxbridge and Stouffville is currently running on weekends.

The station is a collaboration of the Chamber and local business.

The Caribbean Festival returns to Stouffville with lively costumes and dancing.

Pulse and Tongue Diagnosis! What is that all about?

Traditional Chinese Medicine, over 3000 years of history, offers a comprehensive approach to diagnosing and managing illness but more importantly it offers an effective strategy to maintaining health. The goal in Chinese Medicine is to balance the qi (pronounced "chee"), the life force that moves along channels and organ systems in our bodies. Any illness is said to be an imbalance of the qi. The quality and flow of qi is under the influence of opposing yet complementary forces known as yin and yang. Doctors of Traditional Chinese Medicine can utilize Pulse and Tongue Diagnosis to find any imbalances. To address existing imbalances, the doctor can then prescribe treatments that include herbs, acupuncture and modifications to diet and exercise.

Newmarket visitors appalled by drainage

Dear Editor,

While visiting my parents recently at their retirement home on Musselman's Lake, I was appalled by what I saw.

In putting in new roads, the township have laid down drainage pipes that feed everything into the lake. This means that oil, winter salt, lawn fertilizers (yes some people still use them), everything is being fed into this already sick lake.

When I expressed my horror to my parents, they said they had approached one of their councillors about the problem, only to be told, "well, the lake was polluted anyway."

What kind of an attitude is this in these days when we're trying so hard to undo all the wrongs of past generations?

Their home used to be our summer cottage.

My father has been going there since he was a child and he is now 78 years of age. It hurts to see what is happening to an area that used to be so beautiful.

We have written to Environment Canada, but with things being what they are, we won't hold our breath waiting for a response.
