Always something going on at Sgt. Peppers Pub & Grill

The staff at Sgt. Pepper's Pub & Grill in Markham go out of their way to give their customers heaps of great pub food, at reasonable prices, fast.

"If you fax your (lunch) menu ahead of time, it will be on the table waiting for you," said Glen Busch who owns the pub with Cathy and Jim Busch.

But that is not all the community-orientated pub offers.

Located in the Sherwood Plaza, the pub has two atmospheres - casual, family dining and an animated bar feeling, each separated by a wood and frosted-glass partition.

Different snippets of conversations float from the roomy bar area as friends talk over a choice of 15 draft beers, selected domestic beers or coolers.

Others are playing NTN or watching sports via satellite on one of the seven, including a large screen, television set.

For people who enjoy darts, there are three electronic dart boards sitting in one corner.

Around the partition quiet music is playing while the ample seating area - made up of soft, tartan booths and wooden chairs - is filling up with families going out to enjoy a homecooked meal.

"We cater to everyone," said Sgt. Pepper's manager Gary Collier. "Families, teams."

Sgt. Pepper's sponsors three baseball teams, one ball hockey team, the York Region dart team and are the home base for the Markham Rugby Football Club. They also cater private parties.

"And people keep coming back to the pub because they know they are going to get great service, from a friendly staff, in a relaxed atmosphere," said Glen.

Using mainly natural ingredients, the pub serves "the best food in town," he said.

Food like homemade clam chowder served in a sourdough bread bowl, fajitas and stir fries made with lots of fresh vegetables, the largest chicken wings in town and a spinach salad with oranges and walnuts in an avocado dressing.

They also have daily specials including pub pies, quiches and pasta dishes.

And for their younger customers, Sgt. Pepper's has an extensive menu with smaller portions.

For people who like a glass of wine with dinner, the pub carries a wide selection.

They also have homemade desserts including a homemade creme caramel.

"People come back just for that," said Cathy.

Special days

Mondays, Sgt. Pepper's has $25 wings while Saturdays are live band night. Right now Rick Washbrook, a local R&B musician, is playing.

Sundays they have a la carte brunch that starts at 11:30 am until 3 pm.

The menu includes eggs benedict, eggs Florentine, baked eggs, frittata, fresh fruit, pasta and homemade soups.

Sundays are also jam night.

From 4 pm to 6 pm daily, they have half price appetizers.

"There is lots of stuff going on," said Glen.

People are invited to come to the pub at 5694 Hwy. 7 between 11:30 am and 2 am seven days a week.
