Celebrate Canada Day with a bang

Stouffville will celebrate Canada Day with a fabulous display of fireworks, to be held July 1 at the south end of Memorial Park.

Resident Michele Jago is spearheading the fund-raising drive for the event, which not only marks Canada's birthday, but also provides a grand finale for the 1997 Strawberry Festival. The laser light and firework spectacular will be presented by a company called Laser-F/X, which is involved in the Ontario Place Symphony of Fire.

And organizers hope to raise $8,000 from the community for the local display.

While the Stouffville fireworks will be on a much smaller scale than the lake front extravaganza, the audience can look forward to some awesome pyrotechnics.

Jago said she's looking for corporate donations as well as individual donations. K.G.

The fun explodes when darkness falls July 1.

Canadian treasures welcomed for display

With Canada's birthday just around the corner, Ross and Wendy Cowie would like to celebrate with a unique display of Canadian artifacts.

The Cowies, who own the Heritage Ice Cream Parlor on Main St., are appealing to anyone in the community who has a Canadian treasure - which could be anything from a historic photograph to an old farm implement - and who would be willing to loan it to the cafe for the exhibit.

Each item will carry a tag with the name of its owner and will be returned when the display is dismantled.

With the federal election over and the final results of their own cookie election tabulated, the Cowies thought it would be fun to do something different in honor of the country's anniversary.

"We wanted to create a little more interest in Canada Day," said Ross.

Tribune reporter Joan Ransberry supplied them with their first artifact - a dream catcher made by a native Canadian who lives in Stouffville.

So bring in that treasured hockey sweater or picture of your favorite national hero and be a part of the Heritage Wall of Fame for Canada's birthday.

YRAP luncheon

Well known author, editor and activist Doris Anderson will be the guest speaker at a luncheon hosted by York Region Abuse Program (YRAP).

The luncheon and silent auction will take place on Wednesday, June 25, 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at Le Parc, 8432 Leslie Street, Thornhill. All proceeds will go to help YRAP continue to work toward ending all forms of child abuse.

Anderson was editor for Chatelaine Magazine for 20 years. In 1979 she became president of the Canadian Advisory Council on the Status of Women in Ottawa.

For tickets or further information call Marian Dozell, YRAP fundraising coordinator at (905) 853-3040.

Correction

In the June 14 Weekender, Summitview Public School vice principal Claude Zorzi was misidentified in a photograph on page 1.

The Tribune regrets the error.
