Two potters give talk at Latcham Gallery Sunday

Cathy Harris and Louise McFarlane, who are members of the Pine Tree Potters Guild, will give a talk at Latcham Gallery tomorrow in conjunction with the current exhibition, Images in Clay.

Harris, who is guild president, became a member in 1988 when she decided to take a beginner's course in pottery. Since then she has become an accomplished potter and now teaches her art at high school, the Newmarket School of Fine Arts and the guild.

Her beautiful work, examples of which are in the exhibition, are inspired by nature.

McFarlane, who specializes in porcelain work, has recently turned her attention to stoneware, using a distinctive combination of painting and glazing techniques.

She has taught in Scarborough and York Region and works out of her studio in East Gwillimbury.

The two artisans will be at the gallery at 2 p.m. Sunday and everyone is welcome to attend their talk.
