

You woke up one morning to find your trust company was being bought by a big bank.

We should talk.

One morning in June, all National Trust customers opened their morning paper to find their financial institution of choice was being sold to the Bank of Nova Scotia.

If you're one of those people, and you still prefer the personal and respectful service of a trust company, then we'd like you to give us a call. Now that we're Canada's only national independent trust company, Canada Trust represents your best choice for the kind of service you prefer. More than ever before, our products and services are designed with the customer in mind, letting us keep things uniquely personal in today's financial world. Because we're not interested in just getting bigger. We're interested in getting better. Better at understanding you. Better at understanding what you need and when you need it.

To find out how easy, not to mention rewarding, it is to keep your business with a trust company (and avoid any more rude awakenings) drop into your local branch or give us a call at 1-800-560-6383.
