With over 50 public and private golf courses, York Region is the place to be, whether you are playing for pleasure, or teeing off for business.

Its natural topography, meandering streams, rolling hills and picturesque landscape offer the perfect setting for some of the finest golf courses in the country.

Award Winning Courses

Angus Glen in Markham was voted the best new course in Canada in 1995. In 1996, the National in Woodbridge ranked number one, while Beacon Hall in Aurora and King Valley in King were among the top 50 courses in Canada.

These courses take great pride in their design, diversity and strength, and these awards are open testaments to their overall quality. They offer the best experience possible for all golfers.

Equally versatile but less exclusive and less expensive are the over 25 public courses in the Region.

A number of clubs offer multiple courses. Parkview Golf Club offers two 18-hole courses, Cardinal Golf Club has two 18-hole courses plus an executive par 3 course.

Affordable Greens

The nearby Bloomington Downs offers affordable greens fees, driving range and batting cage.

Other public courses such as Angus Glen, St. Andrews Valley, Nobleton Lakes and Silver Lakes provide a superior golfing experience. These courses bridge the gap between the private and public experience.

Aurora Highlands Golf & Country Club has one of the Region's oldest courses right in Aurora as well as a newer 18-hole course in a country setting.

Junior Members

Some of the golf clubs also feature driving ranges and full-service clubhouses with banquet rooms for large gatherings. These golf clubs offer the best facilities for company tournaments, meetings, seminars, weddings and other social functions.

Some of the public clubs are also poised to capture the burgeoning youth market.

Many offer junior membership programs and clinics, while others organize summer golf camps and innovative golf programs for those 18 and younger.

In addition to the domestic market, many golf clubs are working with tour operators and hotels to attract golfers from the U.S. and overseas.

Perfect for Golf Tournaments

With the many great accessible golf courses and the associated clubhouse facilities, the Region is an ideal location for corporations and businesses to entertain their out-of-town clients.

The Region's close proximity to Toronto and its many world-class golf courses also make it the perfect spot for hosting major golf tournaments.

The Infiniti Classic was held at Diamond Back on July 14-20, while the CPGA Championship was held at Markham's Mandarin Golf and Country Club on August 4-10.

With a steady blend of tournaments, corporate golf and regular play, the Region has the potential to become a prime destination for golf enthusiasts from Canada and around the world.
