Chug over to train open house

If you enjoy riding the rails or are a fan of miniature trains, chug on over to Whitchurch-Stouffville this weekend.

The Richmond Hill Live Steamers Club will open its track site to the public on Sept. 6 and 7 for its fall open house.

Visitors will be able to enjoy the sights, sounds and smells of real scale-model and miniature steam trains and diesel locomotives in a woodland setting.

Rides are usually provided for children, and a snack bar and garage sale will be open on both days.

The Richmond Hill Live Steamers — which began 20 years ago in Richmond Hill — boasts club members from Stouffville, Uxbridge, Thornhill and across York Region and the Greater Toronto Area. They aim to preserve Canada's rail heritage.

No admission is charged; but freewill donations will be accepted.

For information, call club president Bill Clothier at (905) 277-0969.
