Take Back the Night March Thursday

The Women's Sexual Assault Helpline and Outreach Services of York Region is a non-profit agency serving women over the age of 16 in the region.

Their Women's Sexual Assault Helpline's fourth annual Take Back the Night March is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 25. It will take place at the Aurora Town Park (two blocks east of Yonge, south of Wellington).

The rally begins at 8 p.m. and the march begins at 9 p.m. For more information please call 895-3646 or 1-800-263-6734.

The agency also seeks volunteers to staff a 24-hour crisis line. The training will take place on Monday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. in our Newmarket office. For more information and an application please call 895-3646.

New board members are also being sought. Any interested women should call the centre for information and an application.

Services offered to gay youth

A group dealing with emotional and social issues of interest to lesbian, gay and bisexual youth, 26 years and under meets the first and third Monday of each month from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

For more information please call the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual Youth Line at 1-800-268-YOUTH or York Region Health Services Department - Public Health at 1-800-461-2135.

United Way hoping to raise $3.2 million in York Region alone

The 1997 Campaign Goal for the United Way of York Region is $3.2 million - a five-per-cent increase over last year's campaign.

United Way executive director Wyn Chivers stated that with the dynamic leadership and hard work of campaign chair Mark Durst, his campaign cabinet and hundreds of volunteers, United Way is well positioned to reach this aggressive goal.

"The community is rallying behind United Way to make sure that people in need in our community are supported and that our community is strengthened during this period of tremendous growth," said Durst.

"I have toured many United Way agencies and know, first hand, the importance of United Way's support. By being involved with United Way you can make a huge difference in people's lives."

For more information, call Kathryn Collins 474-9974 ext. 231.

Public Health nurses on call to answer questions

Do you need health information? Call the York Region Health Services Department's Health Connection line and speak directly to a public health nurse about your questions and concerns.

Confidential information, counselling and support are provided at no cost by calling 1-800-361-5653.

If you are calling Monday-Friday after 4:30 p.m. or on the weekend, leave a confidential message and a nurse will return your call the next business day.
