Lest

we forget

A poppy is a flower that shimmers in the Spring The gentle wind blows at its four sparkling wings
The soldiers rest around it in its gentle care
And where you might see it a heroes soul is there A poppy is a symbol of Remembrance Day
To represent the soldiers who made the world this way
The heroes fought so gallantly, to make our Canada free.
And without them, think of what our beautiful world might be.
Would we have the peace we do? Would we have to be at war?
Would we have the life we have or would we have to ask for more?
A poppy is a symbol of Remembrance Day
To represent the soldiers, who made the world this way
The soldiers were as brave as knights, to risk their lives for us.
And we should be thankful that our world's not left to rust.
We're thankful that there's peace on earth,
We're thankful to this day,
To represent the soldiers, who made the world this way
Christie E. Dickson, 1993
Dedicated to my Grandfather, Who helped make the world this way
