

Good luck controlling costs

Dear Editor,
 Good luck to the Harris government in its efforts to improve education and control costs. Over the years the school boards, unions and teachers have made a complete mess of things and it is high time for Harris to step in and get the situation under control. Non-teacher experts must be brought into the classrooms. The education system and its constantly rising costs have to be brought into line with our ability to pay. Teachers must realize that times have changed and that we want results for the money we invest.

I would never 'gong' a friend

Dear Editor,
 Congratulations to the organizers of the Nov. 8 Gong Show at Latham Hall. This event was first-rate and tons of fun. Congrats also to all performers, who put a tremendous amount of practice and thought into performances.

I'd like to correct one small error made in the Nov. 13 edition of The Tribune. Under my picture, it states that "Terry Neprily pulls the plug on an entertainer as he sounds the gong..." In point of fact, I was DEFENDING the gong from being sounded as one of my "main men" was performing.

I would never consider gonging a performer, especially a friend.
 Terry Neprily, Stouffville
