Festive fashion show to benefit local hospice

This evening is the third annual fashion show in support of Hospice Markham-Stouffville.

This year A Christmas Story Fashion Show focuses on holiday attire for the whole family. The evening festivities are scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. at St. Patrick's Church in Markham.

Models will include community celebrities, hospice volunteers and families and will show fashions for men, women and children. Santa will make an early guest appearance.

As an additional treat, the Cachet Chorale will bring their special kind of music to entertain those in attendance.

According to Rejeanne Korte, chair of this year's show, Peppertree Classics, The Children's Place, Firehall Sports, Paris Fashion Design, Hartman McKay, New Wave Hair & Beauty Fashion and Under Cover Lingerie will have you "dressed for every possible occasion through the holiday season."

Tickets are $20 and are available at Firehall Sports, Peppertree Classics, The Children's Place, New Wave Hair & Beauty Fashion, Regime Hair Place and the hospice office. For further information call 472-5014.

Gift wrappers can help local Children's Aid

Gift Wrappers will be needed until Dec. 24, a few hours during the daytime, evening or weekend to help the York Region Children's Aid Society at its booth in Markville Shopping Centre.

Funds raised will provide special programs and services for children and families involved with the Children's Aid Society.

If you can help, or for more information, call Judy Flow or Myra Hurst at the York Region Children's Aid Society 731-3150.
