

Cancer society holds regular support meetings

Anger, fear, shock and denial are common reactions to a cancer diagnosis. Suddenly, relationships with families and friends can change. Misunderstandings can add to me anxiety. Finding others who have similar problems or with whom you can share solutions can be helpful. The peer support groups offered through the Canadian Cancer Society use informal discussion groups to provide support and practical information. The service is free and is organized and delivered by trained volunteers. Living With Cancer group sessions (for all types of cancer) are held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. This group is open not only to cancer patients, but also welcomes family members, friends, and caregivers. Connecting Rainbows (specifically for breast cancer) meets on the first Tuesday of each month. Both groups meet at the Canadian Cancer Society, Markham Stouffville office at 227 Main Street Markham North (Station Plaza) at 7:15 p.m. No registration is required. For info, call 294-5925.
